'Axis Sally' Goes On Trial Today At Washington

Faces Charge Of Treason For Activities On Nazi Radio In Wartime

TRIAL MAY TAKE TWO MONTHS' TIME

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The treason trial of "Axis Sally," the American woman who broadcast on the wartime Nazi radio, opened today with the court having difficulty in the selection of a jury.

Seven prospective jurors, under questioning by Federal Judge Edward M. Curran, said that they already have a "fixed opinion" as to the guilt or innocence of the grey-haired woman, Mildred E. Gillars.

Miss Gillars faces a possible death sentence if found guilty of treason as a result of her wartime German broadcasts.

Examination of the 110 members of the panel from which the trial jurors will be picked indicated that their selection will be difficult.

May Take Two Months

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Mildred E. Gillars, "Axis Sally" of the wartime Nazi radio, goes on trial today to determine whether her broadcasts constituted treason against the United States.

The trial of the gray-haired 48-year-old former actress from Portland, Maine, is believed to be the first civil treason trial ever to be held in Washington.

Lawyers estimate that it will take about two months to complete.

Selection of a jury was scheduled to get underway today in a federal courtroom given the atmosphere of a miniature United Nations hall by a complicated installation of earphones for judge, jury, lawyers and newsmen.

Use Earphones

The earphones—40 sets of them—were installed so the jurors and others can hear recordings of "Axis Sally" broadcasts the government has labeled "treasonable."

An indictment returned last Sept. 10 charged that these broadcasts were made by Miss Gillars with the intention of "weakening and destroying" the faith of American citizens in their government, creating unrest among the allies and "weakening the fighting powers and morale" of American soldiers.

Miss Gillars, also known as Mildred Sisk, has been held without bail in District of Columbia jail since her arraignment. She has asserted that the never told U. S. soldiers to lay down their arms or said anything that could be called treasonable.

SHARON ALDERMAN DIES

SHARON, Pa., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Funeral arrangements were being completed today for Alfred C. Lewis, 68, of Sharon, Pa., an alderman in the Second ward, died Sunday night in the Buhl hospital from a cerebral hemorrhage.

Pa Newc Observes

Detour marks on the new Pennsylvania Highway Bulletin are as scarce as hen's teeth. Only a few projects keep highways closed, and new projects contracted for will not get under way until around April. This current bulletin is posted in the lobby of The News.

Motorists on the highways early today encountered another morning of difficult driving due to heavy fog that settled over the area. Rain was falling in addition, but temperature was mild and it did not freeze on the highways.

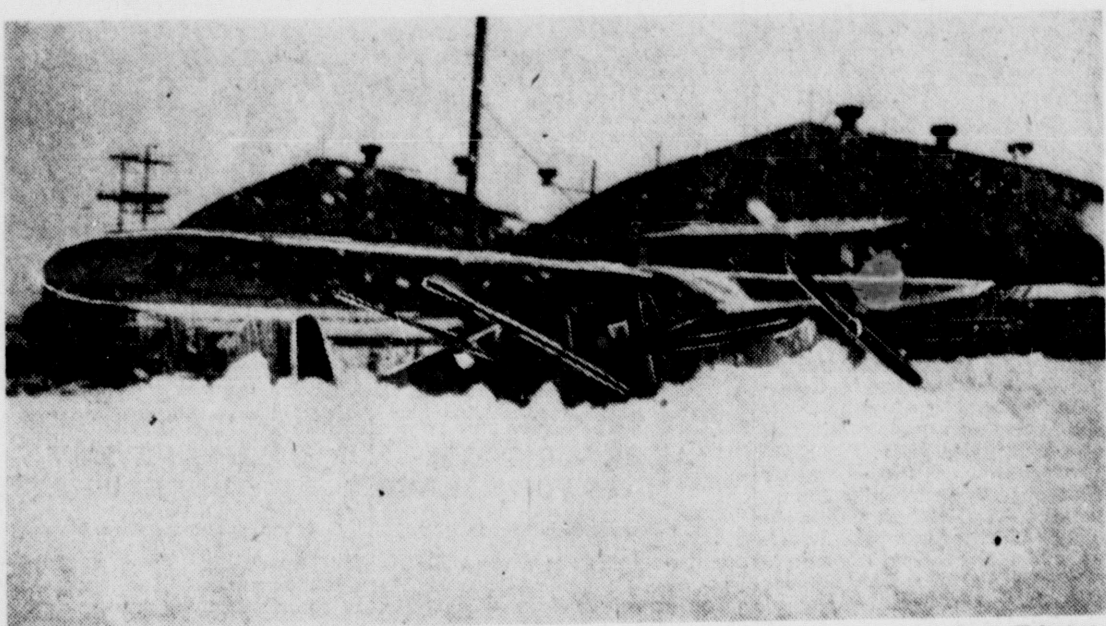

Unpaved roads around the county are a bit difficult to travel at the present time. Pa Newc is told. Little frost is in the ground and mud is deep on these highways.

Rescue Airplane Snowed In At Salt Lake City, Utah

Above scene at an airport near Salt Lake City, Utah, shows one of the planes that was to be used in Operations "Hay" to scatter food to starving cattle, but is snowed in as 21 inches of snow falls on the western range states. The storm, latest of the blizzards which have battered this section of U. S. since the first of the year, delayed Air Force efforts to start an airlift to feed snow-stranded sheep and cattle.

New Storms In Blizzard Area

Sleeting Conditions Are Reported In Ohio Valley Districts Today

EASTERN SEABOARD COMPARATIVELY MILD

(By International News Service)

A new storm headed across blizzard-whipped rangelands in the Far West today as stockmen waged an all-out battle against nature in an effort to save thousands of starving livestock.

A new mass of cold air hovered over the Middle West just west of the Mississippi river and was reported by the Chicago weather bureau as heading east toward the Appalachian mountains. It was due in that area late tonight.

Light snow fell in some spots, but heavier downfalls were reported for Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Colder Weather

Colder weather accompanied the new storm belt, and zero temperatures were recorded northward from Nebraska and northern Kansas to the Canadian border and eastward into Minnesota and western Iowa.

Ahead of the cold mass was rain and drizzle. The Ohio valley reported sleeting conditions. Some thunderstorms were in progress in Missouri, Arkansas and Texas.

More rain was slated to fall in the already swollen Wabash and White rivers in southern Indiana. The rivers were rising again after flooding lowlands last week. Engineers believe the flood there may be the most serious in many years.

Blizzard conditions threatened Nevada, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, adding to inches of snow already on the ground.

The eastern seaboard was comparatively mild, along with the middle Atlantic states, although it was "quite cold" in New England.

Coldest spot in the nation this morning was Havre, Mont., which recorded 25 below zero. And it was 82 in Tampa, Fla.

Court Of Appeals Upholds Conviction Of May, Garssons

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The U. S. Court of Appeals in a 2-1 decision today upheld the conviction of former Rep. Ander J. May (D) Ky., and the Garssons brothers, Murray and Henry, on wartime bribery and fraud charges.

May, wartime chairman of the House Military Affairs committee, and the Garssons, fabulous promoters, were convicted in 1947 of conspiring to defraud the government through operations of a gigantic munitions-making combine.

They were sentenced to serve from eight months to two years in prison.

Sunoco Station Is Robbed Of $60

Someone broke then entered through a small rear window at the Sunoco station, 21 North Jefferson street early Sunday morning and stole between $60 and $70, according to station attendant, Kenneth Myer.

Policeman Pszanny discovered the window broken at 4:45 a. m. and reported the fact to police headquarters.

Police inspected the window and decided the burglar must have been a boy or a small man, in order to squeeze through it.

Police claim fingerprints were on the windows.

Woman Drowned As Auto Falls In Lake

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Mrs. Richard Slagter, 19, was drowned today while her 23-year-old husband was saved by rescuers as he stood on top of his car in Lake Erie today.

The couple was taking a ride on the dock this morning when Slagter failed to see the end of the unprotected dock. The car plunged into the bay. Mrs. Slagter was the mother of a small child.

Seek Decision On Relief Plan For China Now

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Paul G. Hoffman, economic cooperation administrator, said today that he is pressing Secretary of State Acheson for a decision on the future of relief shipments to China.

Hoffman made it clear that in view of the communist victories in China his agency will have to remain undecided on further action until the State Department makes a decision.

A ruling likewise is being sought on the advance of funds for military supplies for the Nationalist government pending a determination of that regime's future. Peake talks now are under way.

Hoffman said in an interview that he talked briefly with Acheson when the latter was sworn in at the White House and asked for an hour's conference with the new secretary. Hoffman reported that Acheson said it would be "very soon."

Three Alternatives

The ECA administrator said that three alternatives face the administration. These are:

1. A complete shutdown of United States aid.

2. Continuation of the program of aid "to the Chinese people" even though a coalition of communist and other elements results.

3. Supplying aid only to those areas not under communist control.

Since the rapid advance of the communists through Manchuria and North China started, ECA has suspended a 70-million dollar industrial program.

Only a week ago shipments of wheat and flour to North China were halted.

Venezuela-Chile Relations Strained

CARACAS, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Diplomatic relations between Venezuela and Chile were strained today following the recall of the Venezuelan ambassador from the Santiago capital.

The Venezuelan foreign office said the recall order was issued because of Chile's "unfriendly" effort to force the release of ex-President Romulo Betancourt who had taken refuge in the Colombia embassy in Caracas.

The foreign office said the Chilean ambassador to the United States requested the organization of American states to examine Venezuela's alleged refusal to grant an exit permit to Betancourt.

Betancourt was granted asylum in the Colombian embassy when a military coup overthrew the regime of his successor, Romulo Callegos.

AMBASSADOR RESIGNS

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 24.—(INS)—James M. Bruce, U. S. ambassador to Argentina, announced today that he has submitted his resignation but it has been refused.

Bruce is leaving for Washington soon for a conference with Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Conservatives Win In Japan

Sweep Into Clear One Party Control Of Japanese Diet In Election

TOKYO, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Japan's most conservative political group, Premier Shigeru Yoshida's Democratic Liberals, swept today into clear one-party control of the Diet (parliament) in the wake of yesterday's general election.

The Japanese Communist party simultaneously won a sensational increase in the number of its seats to obtain a place among the four leading parties in the house of representatives.

Between the extremes of right and left, Japan's middle-of-the-road parties suffered sharp losses. The entire top leadership of the once-powerful Social Democratic (Socialist) party was swept out of the Diet.

Latest returns from yesterday's nationwide voting gave Prime Minister Yoshida's Democratic Liberals 239 seats. This comprised a controlling majority of the 466 places.

Rent Control Extension Bill Given Congress

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—An administration bill to extend rent controls for another two years and strengthen the law was introduced in Congress today.

The administration measure was offered in the House by Rep. Spence (D) Ky., chairman of the banking committee, which will hold hearings on the legislation.

Breaking Missouri River Ice Gorge

Crushed ice hurtles several hundred feet into the air as Corps of Engineers set off 75 charges, totaling 4400 pounds of mixed thermite, composition No. 3 and dynamite in successful blasting of the huge Missouri river ice jam at Iatan Bend, Kans. Iatan Bend is 11 miles upstream from Leavenworth. The jagged effect of the photo is from the concussion of the explosion.

Soviet 'Peace Offensive' May Undergo Test

Attitude Of Soviet Will Be Shown When Trusteeship Council Meets

BODY BOYCOTTED BY REDS YEAR AGO

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 24.—(INS)—The Soviet "peace offensive" may undergo its first test at the United Nations today when the 12-nation trusteeship council goes into formal session.

This influential body was boycotted by the Soviet Union for more than a year. The trusteeship council deals exclusively with the backward areas of the world which President Truman said would benefit by American aid. The belief is that the Soviet may come back into the fold.

It is believed that any instructions from the Kremlin to its spokesmen on the pursuit of the "peace offensive" will make themselves felt in the forthcoming debates on issues where Soviet representatives in the past have blasted practically every country outside the iron curtain.

Testing Points

Testing points on the "cold war" and on the question of a new policy of Russian cooperation within the west are contained in the scheduled meetings later in the week with the atomic energy commission and a conventional disarmament group.

In both cases the door is open (Continued on Page Two)

Peace Parley Is Resumed

RHODES, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Armistice negotiations between Israelis and Egyptians were resumed today following a temporary breakdown over sudden cancellation of Jewish plans to release 3,000 Egyptian troops from the Faluja pocket.

A United Nations spokesman said:

"All is well and the immediate difficulty has been solved. The conference will continue."

Acting U. N. Mediator Dr. Ralph J. Bunche averted the conference's expected breakup in a meeting with the Egyptian delegation.

Near collapse of the negotiations came as a complete surprise.

City Starts Move For Zoning Survey

Council convened today in city hall and by motion of Streets Director James Gibson authorized City Clerk Jack Fritz to insert advertisements in several municipal journals inviting bids for a zoning survey here.

Stockmen Wage Battle To Save Livestock In Blizzard Swept Area

(BULLETIN)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Sixteen giant C-82 "flying boxcars" took off from Sacramento's McClelland field a few minutes after eight a. m. today in "operation feedlift," aimed at saving thousands of snowbound cattle and sheep.

Plans called for the huge planes to fly to Fallon, Nev., where they will pick up hay and concentrates to be transported to Ely, in the heart of Nevada's stormlocked range country.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 24.—(INS)—A new storm whipped across blizzard-locked rangelands in Utah today as stockmen waged an all-out battle against nature in an effort to save thousands of starving livestock.

The new blizzard threatened additional thousands of cattle and sheep in Nevada, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado while menacing parts of grazing lands in Washington, Oregon and fringes of California.

Snowplows were used in attempts to reach flocks and herds but strong winds and colder temperatures made relief almost impossible for more than a million animals.

Planes were made to drop feed from air force and national guard planes to snowbound livestock but only if the animals could not be reached on the ground.

All-Star School Musicians Give Final Concert

Versatile Group From Six-County Area Concludes Three-Day Festival Here Saturday

Pennsylvania Music Educators' Association three-day orchestra festival for students of the mid-western district was concluded Saturday night with a concert from the Cathedral stage by 100 students from a six-county area representing 21 high schools, under the direction of Theodore H. Karban.

The goal, or motto, of the association is to have better high school music and those who attended Saturday evening left with the impression that the association has gone a long way toward accomplishing that goal.

Varying moods, different tempos, and three high-class soloists lent balance to the program and the versatility of the all-star student musicians who gave a finished, enjoyable performance after only three days of practice.

Eleven numbers were included on the Saturday night program. Judging by the applause, each not only was well received, but many of the selections were apparently the favorites of many spectators.

Three Soloists

Three soloists on the program included James Maxwell of New Castle who played "Blue Bells of Scotland," an air with variations for trombone solo with orchestra accompaniment, composed by the nationally known trombonist and bandmaster, Arthur Pryor, Mr. (Continued on Page Two)

Margaret Truman To Seek Musical Fame And Fortune

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Margaret Truman possibly will be leaving the White House within a few weeks to seek musical fame and fortune in New York.

Miss Truman put her career on a professional basis over the weekend by hiring a top flight New York manager and one of the best vocal coaches in the business.

The manager, James A. Davidson, also handles such other famous sopranos as Lily Pons, Helen Traubel, Jeanette MacDonald and Eleanor Sieber.

The coach, Conrad V. Bos, has been accompanying and coaching some of the world's most famous singers for many years.

Such chores have previously been handled by Miss Truman by her long-time singing teacher, Mrs. Margaret Stricker, a former opera singer and family friend.

With her first concert engagements scheduled to begin in October, it seems likely that the president's blonde, career-minded daughter, will return to New York for serious and intensive study.

Held In Slaying

Meredith G. Neal, 49, Seattle airplane worker is shown as he faced questions in the slaying of his father-in-law, Henry B. Bepler, 67, of Warrendale (near Pittsburgh) on Sunday. He was questioned in Pittsburgh today by state police and Allegheny county district attorney in the shooting of Bepler, which police say followed a quarrel over custody of Neal's 15-year-old son, Noel. The mother-in-law, Mrs. Myrtle R. Bepler, 63, was also shot and is in a serious condition with wounds in the chest and abdomen.

Four Persons Fire Victims

Burned To Death As Result Of Fire In Roadhouse Near Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Four persons died today in a fire that destroyed a roadhouse on U. S. route 22 between nearby Export and Murfreesville.

Dead were Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, owners of the "house beside the road," who recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. He was 80 and she was 73.

Dead also was their son, Joseph Miller, manager of the roadhouse, and Wally Myers, 31, bartender.

John Miller, another son who worked as the chef, and waitress, Betty Bruncke, 19, escaped from the burning building.

The roadhouse was a favorite of many district organizations and visiting baseball players.

The fire was discovered by Myers in the bar in the basement, firemen said, but by that time had practically sealed off the entire second floor where the sleeping quarters were located.

Myers died of burns at the Columbia hospital in Pittsburgh. The bodies of the other victims have not been recovered from the ruins.

Nine-Months-Old Child Is Killed

Hurled Through Windshield Of Auto In Collision Near Lock Haven, Pa.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Barbara Ann, nine-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McClellan of nearby Howard, was killed instantly when she was hurled through the windshield of the McClellan automobile in a collision late yesterday.

The mother suffered a fractured knee and McClellan was held for observation at a Lock Haven hospital. Two sons, Billie, 3, and Tommie, 2, were uninjured in the back seat.

The family was out on a Sunday afternoon ride when the car collided with one driven by Samuel Kline of Howard, near the Bald Eagle bridge. Kline suffered chest injuries.

Name Peiping As Prospective Site For Parley

Unconfirmed Reports Indicate Chinese Red Leaders Ready To Talk Peace

RED TROOPS ARE NEAR TO NANKING

(BULLETIN)

NANKING, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Radio and telephone messages from Communist-held Peiping said today that Chinese Red leaders are ready to begin peace talks with Nationalist China's tottering government.

The messages, received in Nanking, were not confirmed by any government source.

The communications said merely that the Communists have designated the fallen northern city of Peiping as the site for the projected talks with the five-man peace commission appointed last Saturday by acting president Li Tsung-Jen.

There was no indication that an official notice from the Reds had been forwarded to Li's "caretaker regime."

Troops Reach Nanking

Communist troops, meanwhile, were reported to have reached Nanking's northern approaches, as weary government forces pulled back to their last barrier, the Yangtze river. The new Red advance threatened both Nanking and Shanghai.

Some Nanking quarters said that a Communist delegation for the peace talks has already been named, but reports differed as to the make-up of the group.

The information from Peiping hinted that a coalition government might eventually be established in Peiping, which is the ancient Chinese capital.

A five-man Nationalist peace delegation, appointed after President Chiang Kai-shek's abandonment of Nanking to fly to his native Fenghua, stood ready to emplane for any peace meeting site the Reds might name.

Nationalists Pull Out

The civil war took another important turn when Gen. Li Yen-Nien's two depleted Nationalist army groups pulled out of Tushien, 40 miles above Nanking, and fell back toward Pukow, directly across the Yangtze from the capital.

Nationalist sources reported Li's troops were conducting no rear-

Long hair or short hair, it makes little diff, just so the music is good; that is, if it's sung by a boy or a girl who can sing of moonlight or roses or sunsets or spring. But what I object to, and strenuously, is hearing some gal who goes la da da dee, who mangles the lyrics and melody, too, who gargles her phrases and when she is through you just can be sure of music or line; I say, out those warblers—it's just sixty-nine.

Court House Numbers Writer Fined And Jailed

Anna Lodin, Second Offender Fined $400 And Costs—Sixty Days In Jail

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

One of the toughest sentences handed a numbers writer came Friday when Judge W. Braham fined Anna Lodin $400 and costs and 60 days in the county jail.

This was the second offense, a previous arrest having been made in 1943. First offenders are usually fined $350 or $400 or a jail term. In this case the lady got both.

Steve Salamon, driving while intoxicated was fined $100 and costs and 30 days in the county jail. Out in three days if the fine and costs are paid.

William D. Klingensmith was fined $100 and costs and 30 days in jail for driving while intoxicated. Out in three days if the fine and costs are paid.

Raymond Gonsalves was committed to jail for failure to comply with a court order.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Nested Boxes

Children under five or six years of age can have a lot of fun with the sturdy corrugated paper boxes in which so many household items are delivered to our homes. Of course, they won't wear as long as more sturdily made toys but they are fun while they last.

If possible, each one should be just a bit larger than the other so that they can easily be stored without taking up too much space. Then too, the younger children have great fun fitting one into the other.

Such boxes can be piled high to make towers, can be tied together to form a very satisfactory train, can be used as temporary homes for the family dolls, and can be played with in many other ways.

Painted with colorful enamel paints, they are attractive. Even the young child can get a great deal out of cardboard-box play. The boxes are light enough to be handled easily and large enough so that there is little of the irritation that smaller objects bring to the youngster who hasn't yet developed the fine muscle co-ordination that come with more experience and with physical maturing.

Defense Line Is Decided Upon

Brussels Pact Nations Would Create Line From Holland To Swiss Frontier

LONDON, Jan. 22.—(INS)—Diplomatic sources reported today that the five Brussels pact nations meeting in London next week have decided on creation of a defense line reaching from Holland to the Swiss frontier.

Should an emergency arise, it was stated, this "line" will be defended by a highly mobile force drawn from troops of Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, the Brussels pact signatories.

France reportedly may provide something like 35 mobile and five armored divisions while Belgium and Holland are ready to provide three divisions each, an airborne brigade and armored formations, all with appropriate air support.

Behind the lines the armies and air forces of the five countries would operate in their own territory against localized attacks by airborne or other troops.

Plans are said to be in hand to construct strategic roads in the Low Countries. Existing forts will be equipped to handle the fuel supplies required by the western union forces.

WORK SHOP ESSENTIAL AS MACHINES INCREASE

As farm machines increase, the need for a farm workshop to do servicing and repairs becomes more urgent. John Benson of North Beaver township is one of the farmers in Lawrence county who now has such a shop. Many of these shops are heated for winter use.

Sometimes a stove is installed in the end of a garage or in a machine shed which has been walled off for the purpose. Farmers report they need a minimum of 12 by 12 foot floor space to accommodate the larger machines.

Good light is important. Electrical power-driven equipment, grinding wheels, and a drill press come in handy. Machine shop work done in winter puts slack season time to good use and avoids delay later when these machines are in operation.

For major overhaul of farm machines which require skilled mechanics farmers may find it advisable to consult their dealers or servicemen. Most repair parts are generally available. Farmers can help dealers in machinery overhauling by cleaning off all grease and having the machines ready for repair work.

Denver Man Gets Delayed Dividend

DENVER.—(INS)—A mining investment more than a quarter of a century ago may pay off in a "jackpot" for a 70-year-old retired Denver printer.

About 25 years ago, Harry Kitte, 70, drew out all but five dollars of his $105 bank account and gave it to a friend, Jack J. Welsh, for a mining venture that never paid.

Eight years ago, Walsh became president of the Wilfley Leasing and Mining company, and he gave Kitte 100 shares of stock in the firm to make up for his original loss.

"This may put you on easy street some day," he told Kitte. The prophecy, it appears, is on the way toward fulfillment. Government drillers have found a nine-foot vein of zinc in the Wilfley mine near Kokomo, Colo. Value of the scarce ore, badly needed for the nation's defense stockpiles, is expected to run into the millions.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

KEEP WORRIES FROM CHILDREN

"My husband and I are not congenial but we continue to live together for the sake of our small son. Many of my friends think we would be showing greater consideration for our child if we separate. Their theory is that our unhappy situation will reflect itself in our son and possibly warp his personality. Do you think this is so?"

Answer: I would never advise a husband and wife to separate so long as there is the slightest chance of a reconciliation. There is, today, too much needless tragedy resulting from broken homes and orphaned of divorce. Disregard your friends' advice and try your best to keep your home intact for your son's sake at least.

One of my most intimate friends, although estranged from her husband during the past ten years, has lived with him merely for the sake of their two young children. Yet in all of that time they have by mutual agreement hidden their estrangement from the little ones who the other day expressed their pity for the children next door because their parents' quarrels made them continually unhappy.

As a matter of fact, the couple next door are very congenial and happy. They merely display bad taste by allowing their children to overhear their petty squabbles. So, as a result the nervous systems of the happy couple's children are being irritated while those of the unhappy couple are being spared due to heroic self-control.

These early impressions on children remain with them throughout their lives. During their formative years, children should be spared all worry and nervous tension.

Question: My daughter will be married at 8:30 in the evening. We will have a small group of friends at our home after the church ceremony. What do you suggest that I serve?

Answer: Why not serve a buffet supper of cold meats, Swiss Cheese, a salad, coffee, rolls and wedding cake.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

TRINITY EPISCOPAL SCENE OF WEDDING

Trinity Episcopal church was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday evening, January 22, at 7:30 o'clock when Miss Audrey E. Casburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Casburn of 125 East Lincoln avenue, became the bride of Vernon R. Evans, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Evans of Oberlin, O. Rev. Ralph E. Hovencamp officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a sheer yoke, trimmed with an Alcon lace ruffle, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt, which fell into a long train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a head-dress of lace and orange blossoms. She carried a hand bouquet of white Budeia, centered with a light colored orchid.

Miss Donna Dagnon, as maid of honor, wore a gown of peach taffeta, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, a hoop skirt and puffed sleeves. She wore a blue bonnet with seed pearls, and blue net nylon mitts to match. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

Joseph Tyrrel served the groom as best man and the ushers were James Degaton, Bill Degaton, Alvin Silvis and Stanley Martin.

Miss Isabel Johnson, organist, played a recital of traditional wedding music, preceding softly during and following the ceremony.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception held in the Trinity church guild hall for approximately 200 guests. Aides were Mrs. Irvine A. Balph, Mrs. J. J. Fishburn, Miss Jeanne Lewis and Miss Marjorie Lostetter. Miss Isabel Johnson played the piano throughout the reception hours, playing among numerous other selections, "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "Through the Years".

The young couple left by automobile on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, and upon their return will reside in Oberlin, O.

Mrs. Evans is a graduate of New Castle high school and Pinkerton Business college, Pittsburgh. She was formerly employed as a secretary at the Universal Sanitary Mfg. Co.

Mr. Evans is also a graduate of New Castle high school and is now employed as a foreman at the Hadlock-Krill Co., Inc., Oberlin, O.

FORMER RESIDENTS' DAUGHTER WEDS

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Ericson of 416 Hillcrest avenue have returned to their home from Erie, Pa., where they attended the wedding of their niece, Miss Betty Jean Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lawson, of Erie, former residents of New Castle.

Miss Lawson became the bride of Arthur D. Weaver of Erie at a lovely church wedding in the Salem Evangelical church Saturday afternoon, Jan. 22, at two o'clock. A dinner was served to the immediate families and out-of-town guests in the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony, and a reception was held that evening in the Grotto club.

The bride is employed in the classified department of the Erie Dispatch-Herald, and her husband is affiliated with the Erie Flex-lume Neon Co. They will reside in Erie following a wedding trip.

BROOKS - BOALICK CANDLELIGHT SERVICE

Miss Marjorie Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Brooks of Highland avenue extension, became the bride of James G. Boalick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Boalick of the Plank road at a lovely candlelight ceremony in the Second U. P. church Saturday evening, Jan. 22, at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. J. Calvin Rose officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with long pointed sleeves and a cascade of ruffles which fell from the waist in the back into a short train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white mums and roses, centered with a corsage of white gardenias.

As maid of honor, Miss Ruth Hanna, cousin of the bride, wore a gown of pink nylon net over satin and a small halo of pink net as a headdress. She carried a bouquet of yellow daffodils and yellow roses, centered with a light colored orchid.

William Boalick served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Clyde Womer, brother-in-law of the bride, and Merle Black.

Miss Veronica Dratko, co-worker of the bride, as soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Jacob Jordan.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception for 50 guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Spiker of Miller avenue, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. Aides were Mrs. Lewis McConahy, Mrs. Nancy Morrissey, Mrs. George Craven and Miss Phyllis Craven.

The newlyweds then left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, and after February 1 will be at home in their newly furnished apartment, 415 Moody avenue.

Mrs. Boalick is a graduate of New Castle high school and is employed at the Standard Steel Spring Co.

Mr. Boalick is also a graduate of New Castle high school and is employed at the Youngstown Sheet and Tube mill, in Struthers, O.

West Is Warned Of Grasshopper Plague This Year

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The government told farmers that a plague of grasshoppers by the billions may be expected this summer in nearly every state west of the Mississippi.

The agriculture department said gloomily that "everything now points to the worst," although some natural factors such as weather unfavorable to the hoppers during the spring hatching season may come to the rescue.

Regions of heaviest infestation are expected to be eastern Montana, Wyoming and Colorado; western Nebraska and Kansas, and Texas.

Rely On New Chemicals

But insect specialists say outbreaks of less intensity may occur all the way from Michigan to California and from the Canadian to the Mexican borders, with the exception of the far northwest.

To combat the incipient plague, the government is relying heavily on two new chemicals—chloridane and toxaphene—both of which were highly successful in tests last season.

Plagues of hoppers normally occur in 10-year cycles. The last big infestation in 1940, and specialists have noted an increasing number of the pests since 1947.

Surveys made in many parts of the country last fall gave the first definite indication that a serious situation might develop this year.

Group Is Home From Inauguration

State Senator and Mrs. Samuel G. Neff, of Ellwood City, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gunnick, of Lathrop street, have returned home after attending the inauguration ceremonies in Washington, D. C., last week.

State Senator and Mrs. Neff and Mr. and Mrs. Gunnick had been extended invitations to the inaugural ball and to attend the reception given for the President and Mrs. Truman.

In addition they also attended various other affairs which were being held in the nation's capitol last week-end.

STOCKMEN BATTLE TO SAVE LIVESTOCK IN

to an emergency group of cargo planes at Salt Lake City which will take hay to herds facing starvation.

The new storm also struck in northern Arizona, North and South Dakota, western Kansas and northwestern New Mexico. Conditions ranging from blizzards to light snowfall caused much misery for thousands of starving cattle and sheep in the Rocky mountain region.

Officials of the fourth air force in Sacramento, Calif., hoped the weather would clear so that "operation feedlift," a mercy mission for the animals threatened with death from starvation and exposure, might begin.

Ready To Start

Sixteen C-82 flying "box cars" were set to take off today from Sacramento to save nearly a million cattle and sheep threatened with death from starvation and exposure on snowbound western ranges.

Livestock losses have grown to the proportions of a major disaster since "the worst winter on record" in the Rockies began with a crippling blizzard last Jan. 2.

The Wyoming Stock Growers Association officially estimated losses so far at nine million dollars.

Many breeding animals have perished by starvation, suffocation and freezing and the effect, stockmen believe, will result in smaller lamb and calf crops this spring with resultant higher meat prices across the nation.

The flying "box cars" are being put into operation by the U. S. fourth air force, based on Hamilton field near San Rafael, Cal.

The first C-82 that left McClelland field in Sacramento carried an advance party to make arrangements for repatriation in "operation feedlift." The operation is expected to require some two weeks for completion.

The 16 remaining C-82s are scheduled to fly ranchers to Fallon, 50 miles east of Reno, to help direct parachuting of feed for the starving livestock.

At Fallon, the giant transport planes will take on cargoes totaling 1,000 tons of baled hay provided by the Nevada Stockmen's Association.

in the Diet's lower house which is post-war Japan's supreme governmental body.

At the opposite end of the political pole, the communists captured 33 seats, as shown in latest returns.

The declining Social Democratic party had won only 50 parliamentary places. The Democratic party, slightly less rightist than the Democratic Liberals, had obtained 66 seats.

Maxwell's rendition of the difficult arrangement left no doubt as to his fine technique and ability. Carelton Spotts, an unusually talented son of a musical family from Slippery Rock, played Goltzman's "Allegro Moderato" from Concerto No. 1 in A Minor, a melodious and brilliant concerto composed for cello solo with orchestra. Mr. Spotts is a member of the Youngstown Symphony orchestra.

The third soloist is one of New Castle's most outstanding young musicians, Joseph Colalucia, who played Columbia Polka, a fantasia polka based on the familiar number, "Oh Columbia The Gem of the Ocean," and arranged for cornet solo with orchestra accompaniment.

Pizzicato Pleases

Another number that was a great favorite with both the players and the audience was "Jazz Pizzicato for Strings," by Leroy Anderson. The composer has combined two very interesting effects, modern jazz and string pizzicato, to give a short snappy arrangement that demonstrates the ability of the string players to use their hands and fingers in plucking their instruments.

Months of planning and handling a multitude of details are necessary for the success of such a large undertaking as bringing this student orchestra to New Castle. At the conclusion of this climactic performance Saturday night, visiting students and directors alike expressed indebtedness to Joseph F. Repligle, director of instrumental music at New Castle senior high school, who was the festival host, for his tireless efforts in making the festival such a musical success.

Mr. Repligle also expressed gratitude to the school administration, faculty, student body, and band for their cooperation in making it possible to bring some of the best high school musicians in the state to New Castle for a stimulating performance.

Complete Program

The Saturday night concert program was as follows:

"Russian and Lullaby Overture"—M. Glinka
"Port Royal Suite" for String orchestra—George McKay
"Hold Your Light on Caneau Shore"
"Go Down in Lonesome Valley"
"Heaven Shall Be My Home"
"Jazz Pizzicato" for string orchestra—Leroy Anderson
"Great Grandpa" cowboy song—Arr. by Merle Isaac
"Blue Bells of Scotland" trombone solo—Arthur Pryor
"Contra Altus" Nos. 7-12—Beehovens
"Allegro Moderato" from Concerto No. 1 in A Minor—Goltzman. Carelton Spotts, cellist; accompanied by orchestra.
"Revival" a Fantasy of Six Spirituals—Morton Gould
"Columbia Polka"—Rollinson
Joseph Colalucia, cornet soloist and orchestra
"Rosenkavaller Waltz"—R. Strauss
"Czech Rhapsody"—Weinberger.

guard operations to cover their retreat. The Communist advance, reportedly now well past Tushien, was thus apparently sweeping south unopposed.

Tushien lies on China's greatest railroad—the line from Red-occupied Tientsin in the north to Peking. It is the last major railroad north of the Peking terminus itself.

Observers believed Gen. Li's forces may have been ordered to offer no further resistance to the pursuing Communists. This would be tantamount to a unilateral cease-fire move.

May Involve Surrender

Such an unusual military directive, it was felt, may have been issued in an effort to convince the Communists of the Nationalists' sincerity in seeking to end China's fratricidal bloodshed, even if that involves virtual surrender.

More than ever before the Communists now seemed in a strong position to enforce their terms following the surrender of Peiping and the consequent Red assumption of effective control over all North China.

Peiping, for many centuries the fabulous capital of China's Manchou emperors, was handed over to Red siege forces Saturday without a struggle. In surrendering China's most venerated and beautiful city, Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, North China Nationalist commander in chief, bowed to 13 Communist demands.

Acting president Li Tsung-Jen already has notified the Reds that his government is prepared to talk peace on the basis of Communist leader Mao Tse-Tung's eight-point "peace ultimatum" which calls for almost total Nationalist capitulation on all remaining fronts.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

What About Fairy Stories?

From time to time, the good old fairy stories on which many of us were brought up are attacked as harmful. They are said to create a world of unreality, to be full of cruelty and in other ways to be most undesirable for young children.

Those who oppose fairy stories believe that children should have more of the here-and-now kind of stories—tales about the world around them. They propose that railroad engines, cranes, airplanes, the fireman and the policeman should be the heroes of our children rather than the Snow Queen, Prince Charming or other mythical characters.

And it is surely true that in the past there have not been enough stories of the interesting activities in life all around us. Within the last 25 years that lack has been remedied considerably.

On the other hand, it seems highly improbable that fairy stories are as harmful as some of their enemies believe them to be. Most children have little trouble in differentiating between the real and the fanciful. And they get something out of the imaginative fairy story that realistic tales don't bring. A balanced diet of all kinds of stories is likely to be most appreciated by the youngsters.

METHOD OF SEWING FUR FABRIC—OTHERS

Those who sew at home may be a little puzzled about the methods to use in handling some of the fabrics that have appeared on the fashion scene for this season. The following suggestions are for working with some of these less familiar fabrics:

Fur fabric is on the market looking more like real fur than ever. It may be used for jackets, stoles, berets, and for lining or trimming on coats. Lay pattern on wrong side of material and cut. Use tailor's tack or chalk marking to mark the notches. Use a slightly longer machine stitch when making the seams. Lightly steam the seams.

When working with jerseys keep the fabric on a flat surface to keep from stretching the fabric out of shape. Use a loose, easy stitch on the sewing machine. Stay stitching the fabric along neck, shoulder armhole, and top of skirt will help to hold the pieces in good shape. A thin interfacing is often used to keep parts of the garment from stretching and to give added strength for buttonholes, pockets, etc. The seams may have a tendency to curl, but this will not affect the outside appearance of the garment. Seams may be finished by pinking. If top stitching is to be used, guard against stretching the material as you sew. Press jersey gently with light even strokes.

When you sew on suede or leather there is no straight-of-grain or bias, but the pattern pieces should be placed on the leather so that the nap will all be in one direction. Trace around the pieces with chalk. Cut, using sharp scissors. Paper staples may be used to hold edges together until seams have been made. Open the seams and top stitch in place. Suede will not ravel. Press on the wrong side of the leather with a warm iron. The tension and machine stitch will need to be adjusted to this material.

Felt is handled in much the same way as suede. It comes by the yard and is 72 inches wide. It has no straight-of-grain. It is pliable enough for basting. Press the seams open with a medium hot iron and dampened press cloth. Pink the seam edges that do not show. Use a fairly tight stitch on the machine.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Alfred Hooper, the renowned mathematician, was introduced to the student body of Wellesley by an effusive lady who enjoyed the sound of her own voice. Hooper wooed his audience back to good humor with a story that should come in handy to all victims of over-long introductions.

An Italian farmer, bringing a calf to market, was stymied by a bridge over a creek. The calf refused to cross it. The farmer cajoled and prodded, but made no impression whatever.

Finally a motorist drove up. The calf blocked his way. After a brief conference with the farmer, the latter dropped behind the car, and the motorist let out a loud blast with his electric horn. The panic-stricken calf made a wild leap over the railing of the bridge and was promptly drowned in the whirling current below.

The philosophical farmer summed up the situation in one sentence: "Too bigga da honk for so smalla da calf!"

proval to go over to his friend's home for some fun, but you tell him to come home in good time. When he returns, smiling and supposedly he was early, you rebuked him for disobedience, for being "more than an hour late." Perhaps you even punish him. If you had been wiser you would have told him you regretted you had not been more clear in what you meant by "early" and would do better next time. Even if you had stated the hour for his return, there still might have been some good reason for his lateness, which he might have volunteered to explain to your satisfaction.

Let us parents lean backwards in order to ascertain the child's

State Police Say:

The regular semi-annual inspection period in which you must have your car inspected began November 1, 1948. While you have until January 31, 1949, to submit your car for inspection, it is a good idea to have your car inspected as soon as possible as past experience has proved that many motorists who wait until the last few days experience difficulty in having the necessary repairs made.

equate lighting is the best deterrent to after-dark street crimes.

Common sense and experience both tell us that poor street lighting has been responsible for a large share of traffic casualties. And it has long been a maxim that "light is the best policeman."

The police of the nation are interested in anything that will cut down the number of traffic casualties. And after all, ample lighting of streets and highways is a cheap investment in behalf of safety and crime prevention.

Prevention is always cheaper than cure.

QUARRELSOME MUSCOVITES

Can communist and capitalist nations live side by side in peace and friendship? Probably they can if they want to. The trouble is that Russia doesn't seem to want to be on such terms with any nation. What is happening in Yugoslavia makes it pertinent to ask a second question: Can two communist nations live side by side in peace and friendship?

Russia and Yugoslavia, both communist countries, aren't doing it. Yugoslav Foreign Minister Kardelj said the other day that Russia efforts to overthrow Tito's government had failed. Russian-aligned communists in Yugoslavia have been subversive elements trying to overthrow not capitalism but communism.

Russia's real objection to Tito, or Broz, is not over Marxist theory. It is over his refusal to do everything Russia wants. Similarly, the real reason the United States, for instance, cannot get along with Russia is not that it is capitalistic. It is that the United States will not take orders from Russia.

Tito, though a communist, showed both wisdom and courage in ignoring Moscow's orders to collectivize the farms. Poland obeyed similar orders, and now she is in trouble because farmers are killing their livestock to cash in on it before it is taken from them. Tito foresaw that danger.

According to reports, people in the captive countries are becoming increasingly restive because Russia has promised a higher standard of living and isn't delivering.

So it seems to be a mistake to believe that Russia cannot get along with the United States because this country is still slightly capitalistic. She cannot get along with socialists, either. She cannot get along with communists. She cannot get along with anybody.

TOO MANY COPS?

Some newspapers have expressed editorial disapproval of the announcement that 400 police have been assigned to serve at the New York court house where 12 communist leaders are being tried. Such a turn-out smacks of star-chamber proceedings. It may be prejudicial to the defendants. And if it was necessary, why the advance publicity?

These editorial misgivings may be warranted. So far, at any rate, they seem to be unanimous. Defense attorneys, too, are protesting against the huge police guard, and the communists themselves are making a lot of noise about it. Undoubtedly there has been an adverse effect on the judicial atmosphere that should prevail in a courtroom.

That is unfortunate. But it is fair to ask what kind of atmosphere would have prevailed if only the usual quota of police had been present. Would the communists have packed the courtroom with their followers? Would they have been so disorderly that the court's judicial atmosphere would have been corrupted?

Of course they would. Those are standard communist tactics. The police had enough foresight to prevent it. Maybe they violated the principle of economy of force. Maybe they erred in announcing their intentions. But they had the right idea.

AMERICANS LIVING LONGER

Actual studies have just been completed which show Americans living to a much riper age.

Older men and women are coming into their own. A man who has been reached 50 isn't through, he still has 22.7 years to go.

The studies show that in various fields most men hit their peak in their late 40s and 50s.

Forty-four seems to be the big year for investors and poets, but military leaders, novelists and explorers were hitting their peak from 46 to 48, and artists, clergymen, physicians, statesmen, astronomers and mathematicians found their top stride at 54.

Jurists, historians, naturalists and others achieved their chief glories at 57 and 58.

Humorists, it has been pointed out, did not get to be their funniest until 36.

The statisticians point out that older men have more sense, or should have.

In occupational and intellectual deeds, the middle aged should be able to run circles around the young fellow. But, the study concludes, "not at the bar or the beach."

In middle and older age we should be having the best times of our lives.

A bad way to keep a wife or a husband is worried.

In attempting to solve family troubles and divorce cases, has anyone thought of placing the parents in custody of the children?

Chicago man will be eligible for parole from a penitentiary sentence in 232 years. By that time he may like the place and decide to stay.

As workmen get further into the job, it is learned the White House was in a sad state of disrepair. Apparently only tradition was holding it up.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Soviet Russia's stubborn determination to obliterate all traces of Nazism in the eastern sector of Germany reached its high point today with a decision to "plough under" the bomb-ravaged remains of Adolf Hitler's chancellery.

German laborers are hard at work dismantling the wreckage. The blocks, stones, girders and masonry all will be dumped unceremoniously into the huge hole in the chancellery garden left when the Russians blew up Adolf Hitler's gigantic underground shelter.

The most unusual thing about the Soviet procedure is that the Russians are putting to waste useful construction materials and marble that is worth a fortune.

The only possible explanation is that the Russians are anxious to get this costly memento of Nazi days out of sight completely.

Pleanty Of Other Rubble Certainly there is plenty of other rubble and fractured masonry in the former German capital to fill up a hole.

This re-appearance in the news of the great pink building where so much modern history was enacted, and so many crimes against humanity and culture ordered, emphasized the length of the Soviet memory so far as the war against Hitlerism is concerned.

The Russians, like the western Allies, are proceeding with denazification by legal means and ferreting out whatever may remain of Hitler's teachings in schools and universities.

Policies Differ But the eastern and western policies differ fundamentally in that the Allies are trying to salvage whatever under the old regime can be worked into democratic channels while the Russians seem determined to erase the old entirely and begin all over again.

A good example of the thrift and unemotionalism of the western occupational powers is afforded by the large provincial building erected by the Nazis in Munich for the use of the Bavarian government.

This has been repaired completely and spruced up from top to bottom despite the fact it has more of Hitler's character even than the Reichschancellery.

It was designed by the Fuehrer himself in one of his architectural outbursts and strangely enough it has a certain quality recognized by experts despite the fact that it flaunts classic conceptions.

In Grecian Style The building is in the Grecian style. But in a break from tradition, Hitler designed the pillars and columns of its facade in contravention of ordinary rules, making them far thinner and far more numerous than in the classical design.

Destruction of the chancellery served again to bring up the question of the Berlin blockade and speculation as to whether this new year may bring a settlement of this gravest of all disputes between Soviet Russia and the West.

The matter is still on the agenda of the United Nations. No one seems to be in a great hurry to resume formal discussions, and each passing day seems to re-

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEMPER PUNISHMENT OF CHILD

It has just occurred to me that I have been remiss in not discussing more often the scores of situations the child faces that are new ones, those nature has not hitherto been discussed with him or been defined for him. Such situations are constantly arising and the way we parents handle them may be a test of our insight into the child's feelings and experiences and appreciations of him as a person; a test, moreover, of his regard and esteem for us as he grows older.

So often we take for granted that the child of two, eight or fourteen has deliberately disobeyed us or committed some misdemeanor when he really has not meant to do it, when what he did was to see how it would turn out. To illustrate, your little girl, four, wishing to have some clothing for her doll may use a very cherished fancy dolly of yours for this purpose and you may later find the dolly badly soiled. Then your impulse may be to punish this child. Yet she may have supposed that she had done nothing since nothing could be too good for her precious doll. If you are wise, you will tell her what she may or may not use for such purposes and why, knowing that it may take her a long while to acquire good judgement in such matters.

Considerate Father

As I remember my father, he seemed so considerate and fair to me and my brothers and sisters that I hesitate to relate the following incident. While he was away one day, I, a boy then about ten, was wandering about the "wash house" and came across a shovel handle, which I later discovered, he had meant to attach to a shovel. I got an idea. I would fasten that handle to an old hoe. Not being able to find a saw, I haggled the handle off with an axe above the metal curve and crudely, but as well as I was able, fastened it to the old hoe. I could hardly wait to have my father return to show him the "good hoe" I had made. But, to my sad amazement, he rebuked me violently for destroying his shovel handle, telling me I should have known better. This incident worried me for days and weeks and I still recall it with discomfort.

My father had not tried to find out what my purposes were nor did he wait to let me explain. I was so dumbfounded and humiliated I just said nothing. I wonder if we parents all have not done things as bad, in spite of our good intentions to the contrary notwithstanding.

duce the validity of Russia's case in the matter.

Winter's back has not yet been broken and some severe setbacks in the Allied airlift still can develop. But November and December usually are the worst months for flying in Europe because of sudden storms and heavy fog.

This should mean that the Allied undertaking will become simpler with each passing day, with springtime, of course, enabling operations on a far greater scope even than the tremendous daily shipments being taken to Berlin at the present time.

And there are signs that the increasing Allied counter-blockade is being felt severely in the Russian sector. The West now has banned shipment to the east of many essential items whose manufacture entails western fuel and power.

There is still a certain chance that Russia will lift the blockade suddenly one day, admit defeat with as much good grace as possible, and go back to the way things were before.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Pardon me if I feel a little nauseated.

But I do feel sick to my stomach. It's not anything I ate.

It's not any domestic or international trouble.

It's a plain case of disgust.

I am disgusted with that actress who has traveled all over the globe with a married man and permitted herself to be publicized to a fare-you-well. But she has the nerve to tell a newspaper reporter, who asks her whether she is going to marry the man, "That's my private business."

I am disgusted with that public actress who shows herself in public at night clubs and theatres and hotels, loaded with diamonds and other precious jewels, and then raises the roof because a burglar likes the stuff as well as she does and robs her apartment.

I am disgusted with people who, as everybody knows, fight like cats and dogs and have drunken brawls, and then have their pictures taken at some swanky affair smiling at each other like a couple of moon-calves. Then a week or so later they sue each other for divorce and hang all their dirty wash out on the public line.

But above all, I am disgusted with the millions of people who scream to high heaven about immorality and juvenile delinquency, but who eat up every line of this filthy stuff that newspapers are forced to publish because every survey has shown that the public demands it.

Don't anybody ever talk to me about the press being sensational. It isn't the press that is sensational, it's the public that wants its printer's ink in blood.

There isn't a good newspaperman or newspaperwoman alive who would not much rather write worth-while stories than a lot of that trash about movie actors and actresses, pseudo-society people and publicity hounds.

Do you think any reporter worth his salt likes to write about the New York night club that has taken down its red velvet rope, which is supposed to keep out "undesirables", and replaced that rope with a 14-carat chain of real gold?

Is that American? Is that democratic?

It certainly isn't. But the public of a half century ago loved those stories about Diamond Jim Brady drinking champagne out of Lillian Russell's slipper. It loved the stories about Anna Held's milk baths.

And the public of today loves the stories about that movie actress being pursued and wooed by an Indian prince, and about that other one who married a millionaire and now loses a couple of hundred thousand dollars' worth of diamonds.

What does all that prove? What have said so often: Juvenile delinquency is not a child's affliction. It is a disease of adults with calves' brains.

Yes, I do feel nauseated today—don't you—kind of?

MISUNDERSTOOD

Could we but draw back the curtains
That surround each other's lives,
See the naked heart and spirit,
Know what spur the action gives,
Often we would find it better,
Purer, than we judged we should—
And to Love we'd be a debtor,
If we only understood.

Could we judge all deeds by motives,
See the good and bad within,
Often we would love the sinner,
All the while we loathe the sin.
Could we know the powers working
To overthrow integrity,
We should judge each other's errors,
With more patient charity.

If we knew the cares and trials,
Knew the effort, all in vain,
And the bitter disappointments—
Understood the loss and gain—
Would the grim external roughness
Seem, I wonder, just the same;
Should we help where now we hinder,
Should we pity where we blame?

Ah, we judge each other harshly,
Knowing not life's hidden force,
Knowing not the fount of action
Is less turbid at its source.
Seeing not amid the evil
All the golden grains of good;
Oh, we'd love each other better,
If we only understood.

Latest Give-Away Program?

Adventures Of Mr. Hardcash

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—John J. Hardcash, president of Regional Corp., (both imaginary,) found that his manufacturing firm last year cleared $100,000. The Federal Government immediately took $38,000 in corporate taxes and the firm distributed $62,000 to its stockholders. The Federal government took, let's say, $20,000 of this in income taxes. So the owners of the firm ended up by getting $42,000 after taxation.

To put it another way, Regional Corp., had contributed $58,000 to the nation. But that isn't the whole of its contribution. It also paid out $50,000 to its employees under a collective bargaining contract. In addition, it supplied 200,000 customers with its line of products. On top of that, Regional Corp., in order to improve its products and outsell its rival, employed a 12-man research staff which presumably added something to the nation's advances in technocracy.

A year has gone by and Mr. Hardcash is shocked to hear that the President has announced another 40-plus billion dollar budget, calling for additional taxes. Of course there are plausible reasons for the President's decision. Our international and military commitments are still on the increase. The President, who campaigned on a platform of social benefits, must try to fulfill his promises. No one can gainsay that the recommended benefits aren't fine and dandy things—new hydro-electric projects, land reclamation, crop subsidies, shipping subsidies, houses, hospitals, schools and highways.

Shocked At News

Hardcash is shocked to hear that the President has announced another 40-plus billion dollar budget, calling for additional taxes. Of course there are plausible reasons for the President's decision. Our international and military commitments are still on the increase. The President, who campaigned on a platform of social benefits, must try to fulfill his promises. No one can gainsay that the recommended benefits aren't fine and dandy things—new hydro-electric projects, land reclamation, crop subsidies, shipping subsidies, houses, hospitals, schools and highways.

They Say

WASHINGTON—President Truman, to Democratic party workmen, "All of you must be behind the Congress, the vice president, and the President to carry out those principles for which we said we stood and for which the vice president and I do stand."

NANKING—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, in announcing his "retirement," "I have realized that it is absolutely necessary to secure peace for the country before a sound foundation can be laid for improvement of the nation's political and economic life."

NEW YORK—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, to defense lawyers for 11 top Communists: "My conception of a judicial tribunal is to hear both sides. You apparently desire, after putting in your side, that . . . (the prosecution) should not be allowed to put in his side."

Strange Combination No Hardcash finds himself staring at a strange combination—the unwilling alliance of big, conservative business and big, liberal government. Global, Inc., if its management is alert, will keep an office and perhaps a lobby in Washington. It will make the most of friendly contacts with ex-Wall Street men, such as Defense Secretary Forrester. It will be forced to lead a double corporate life—complaining about high taxes, yet mainly existing on tax-supported revenue.

But Global, Inc., like Regional Corp., is headed for trouble. As if corporation and incomes taxes were not enough, Congress passes an excess-profits tax. This means that government has put a ceiling on profits. Pretty soon, this year or the next, Congress passes a full employment bill. This means that government has set a floor under production. Meanwhile high taxes and the growing national debt have caused a devaluation of the dollar. By this time Global, Inc., is like a mouse on a treadmill. It runs faster and faster, but is getting nowhere.

As director, Hardcash has to decide what ought to be done. Global, like Regional before it, can borrow money, can cut back its services, can quit the business or can merge. But the only thing it can conceivably merge with is yet a larger corporation—the U. S. Government.

Hardcash, if he lives this long, has seen socialism come to America. It hasn't come by violent revolution, any more than it did in Britain. But Hardcash, a very humorist, can't help but remembering an old ballad which runs: "The fireflies fly on wings of gold, the moth on wings of flame."

The bedbug has no wings at all—but he gets there just the same."

Don't Fall For Red Plan

By PAUL GALLICO

To give you a further idea about the trial of the 12 top Communists which is going on in our city right now, in the hope that you will become exercised and excited about it, I would say that you might find a fair analogy in something like this.

Supposing the police in your home town had picked up a gang of yeggs on suspicion, supported by evidence that they were planning to shoot the president of the First National Bank, garrote the watchman, blow the safe, loot it of its contents and make off with the life savings of the citizens, church funds and the deposits of widows and orphans.

The gang would be remanded for trial at which time the law enforcement agencies would produce evidence. The prosecuting attorney would prosecute, the defending lawyers would defend, the trial would be presided over by a judge, a servant of the people, and a jury would render a verdict. If the yeggs could prove innocence they would be freed; if found guilty, they'd be tossed into the cooler where they would cease to be a danger to society.

Familiar With System

This is a legal system with which you are all familiar. It works. The rights of the defendant are given every protection and genuine miscarriages of justice are rare. In many instances, the man charged with a crime is free on bail and is not even incarcerated. He has his day in court in the presence of an unbiased judge and jury.

But how would YOU, the citizen, feel if you went to the courthouse, in whatever capacity—spectator, salesman, court attendant, judge, attorney, bailiff, etc.—and found you could not enter except by passing through a picket line of other yeggs, purse snatchers, muggers, safe-blowers, pickpockets, second story men and professional assassins—big, husky plug-uglies and their lady friends, bearing placards and banners inscribed with abusive and threatening slogans under the guise of demanding justice for their fellow yeggs? Might you not with considerable reason feel that somebody was being intimidated?

And if in trying to get through the line you found that the marchers refused to open up, that they pushed, jostled, tore your overcoat and generally made it difficult for you to go about your business, the least you could do to protect yourself would be to call upon the police to maintain order and see that you had free access to the place where your interest or duty called for.

And if, suddenly, at the trial you heard the defense attorney charge terror and police intimidation you would most certainly be highly indignant and angry and you would advise your local authorities that you backed them to the limit.

Exactly Like That

The Commie trial is exactly like that except that because it seems to be political, nobody on our side, the citizens' side gets mad or indignant or does anything about it.

When last October the 12 Commies obtained a continuance, their brother Communists, sympathizers, stooges and fellow travellers staged a near riot outside the courthouse. When our police commissioner sent police to maintain order at the opening of the trial last week, the defense lawyers immediately charged terror and police intimidation. The intimidation, of course, was wholly on the part of the Communists. They did not dare to jostle or riot this time, nor did they carry banners, but they marched—picketed—nevertheless and presented a picture of physical force.

NOBODY picketed or marched for our side, the free citizens of the United States who believe in a Democratic form of government.

The impudence of the Communists is a part of their technique. It is a part of the Totalitarian game the world over, to accuse the parties they are attacking or trying to undermine of the very things of which they themselves are the most guilty, to riot, intimidate, provoke trouble and then cry terror and persecution when the police are forced to maintain order.

Don't fall for it. Don't stand for it. Fight for your country as these men are fighting to destroy it. Be vocal. Write to your President, your Senator, your Congressman, your Attorney General. Back up your government.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

MYSTERY OF MYSTERIES

This life is filled with mysteries. Of that there is no doubt.

But now and then some scientist, like Kettering, probes one out. The secrets of the land and sea and sky are being learned.

In man's devoted search for truth no stone is left unturned. But deepest of the mysteries remaining still unknown.

Is what a woman talks about so long upon the phone.

I've pondered this for years and years and have no answer yet; Just why my call at home should be so difficult to get. Have women folks been gifted with tremendous vocal powers? With breath and throats are they endowed to talk for hours and hours?

Oh, mystery of mysteries on which no light is thrown.

What is it keeps the lovely sex so long upon the phone?

It matters not the time of day; from nine o'clock to ten, The busy signal buzz is all I ever manage then.

From ten to two; from two to four, and still they chatter on.

Boys! K. I pass this mystery to you to work upon.

Discover this for me and you my gratitude will own.

What is it women talk about so long upon the phone?

New Type Sub Will Be Seen

Atomic Age Submarine To Make Bow At Coming Maneuvers

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—When this country's largest post-war fleet maneuvers get underway in the western Atlantic and Caribbean areas February 14, the eyes of naval strategists will be glued on the atomic age submarine—possibly the Navy's most potent striking weapon.

This is the sub developed by the United States Navy after years of post-war study of German and other foreign submarines and the application of American ingenuity under a multi-million-dollar congressional program.

It is no longer a military secret that our subs were obsolete by the war's end and it has been freely admitted that had Hitler been able to use his "reserve" fleet of some 120 ultra-modern type submarines in 1944, the Battle of the Atlantic might have had a sad ending for the Allies.

Fortunately, this was not the case, but startled United States naval experts were quick to learn the truth and to realize the great need for improvement of the American fleet of submarines.

With the coming of the atomic age, the improvement became even more necessary and the Navy buckled down to the task.

Just how successful it was may be seen from the recent North Atlantic fleet maneuvers, in which a small group of improved subs theoretically sank a task force fleet of almost 100 ships before they could disembark "attacking forces."

The maneuvers coming up undoubtedly will be aimed to prevent any repetition of such a successful "attack" by the underwater raiders.

America's latest subs have been "streamlined" to increase their submerged speed by reducing the size of their superstructures and removing their deck guns and other "topside" appendages.

An improved version of the "schnorkel," the device developed by the Germans which permits subs to "breathe" while submerged, has been installed in the under-seas fighters.

Better and more efficient engines have been installed to increase both submerged and surface speeds.

The Navy actually is getting closer to what is termed the "true submarine"—one which can cruise at fast speeds underwater for months, if necessary, without coming to the surface.

Already in existence, but still too expensive to use except in event of a "grave emergency," is the radical hydrogen-peroxide engine, which would enable subs to reach submerged speeds of 25 knots—as fast as most surface craft.

With such a speed, the atomic-age sub can easily overtake slow-moving convoys and probably even most of today's surface warships. At this writing the actual surface and submerged speeds of the latest type post-war submarines are, of course, closely guarded secrets. We do know, though, the non-obsolete World War II subs reached 20 knots on the surface and nine knots submerged.

Emphasis on cutting down on the noise of sub engines and ability to dive deep under the surface, only add to making this craft more formidable than any of its type in the world today.

However the submarine of the atomic age is not only a torpedo-launcher. It has become a weapon of many uses.

The Navy has on hand a troop transport submarine, a cargo submarine, a radar picket submarine, a guided missile submarine, a submarine oiler (tanker) and even anti-submarine submarines.

As their name implies, the anti-submarine subs are fully equipped to do battle with other submarines on or beneath the surface.

WEIGHING ACCURATE

If you're planning to put up fruit preserves this year, keep this tip in mind. Weigh rather than measure the ingredients because the weight of a quart will vary with the kind of fruit, the way it is packed, and the shape and size of the pieces. Weighing is more accurate and gives better results than does measuring.

A BLONDE OR ANEMIA

A pale clear skin does not always mean that anemia is present. A person may have blonde hair and a clear white skin without being anemic.

Anemia means a lack of either quality or amount of blood. A dark haired, dark skinned person may have anemia and not show it very much.

Anemia may mean a shortage of red cells or of iron or both. A blood test is the only way to find out whether there is anything wrong with the blood.

Black hair or a dark skin get the color from pigment. Iron has no effect on the color of the hair.

Brunettes need just as much iron in their food as blondes do.

Countries Aided Would Be Required To Make Guarantees

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—White House sources disclosed today that countries aided under President Truman's "bold new program" for raising world living standards must make guarantees to American investors.

These sources said that item four in the president's inaugural four-point plan to bring "peace, plenty and freedom" to the peoples of underdeveloped countries has been misinterpreted widely.

Republican leaders in Congress bitterly assailed the proposal on the ground it would require additional billions of government spending to guarantee U. S. private industrial investments abroad.

White House sources stated emphatically that the president made no such proposal, and had nothing of the sort in mind.

They said the "guarantees to the investor" mentioned by the president means that the country in which U. S. private industry built a plant, developed a mine or oil field, or built a railroad, must give adequate guarantees that such investments would not be confiscated, subjected to unfair taxation, or otherwise circumscribed by discriminatory practices.

They described as "ridiculous" interpretations of the plan as an underwriting of foreign investments by this government.

Engine Hits Auto On Grant Street

Auto operated by Joseph Davis, R. D. 2, was struck by a P. R. R. engine on the Grant street crossing, and damaged several hundred dollars, early this morning, according to a report made to police at 2:40 a. m. today.

Davis claims the engine, of which D. M. Clark, R. D. 5, was the engineer, struck the right side of the auto and turned the auto around completely. It came to a stop near the watchman's shanty.

Watchman James Erace of 4 Culbertson Way, said he was flagging the crossing with a red lantern and claims Davis did not see or heed the signal.

Davis claims that there was no watchman on the crossing until after the accident.

Testimonial Dinner For Softball Team

City Championship Team Honored By Gathering At First Baptist; Presented With Trophy

In the dining room of the First Baptist church, about 150 persons gathered on Friday evening for a testimonial dinner honoring the First Baptist softball team, which won the championship in the city this year. The invocation was given by the pastor, Rev. O. W. Hurst.

Manning Weller was toastmaster of the evening. Mrs. Harry Gettings officiated at the piano during the pep singing, led by Jack Griffiths.

The pastor presented the team's manager, Donald Lutz, with a trophy, donated by a local merchant. Prof. Walter Biberich of Westminster college delighted the audience with his magic and hypnotic demonstrations.

Section 6 of the Women's Missionary society prepared and served the sumptuous dinner. The decorations were carried out in the team's colors, blue and gold. Deafness Explained In Free Booklet Available to Public

What does science now know about what causes deafness? If you're hard of hearing, how can you be helped to a happier, fuller life?

The answers to these questions—and many others—are found in an authoritative booklet, "Modern Science and Your Hearing," published by Western Electric. Much of the material it contains was supplied by scientists of Bell Telephone laboratories, world-famous for their research in problems of sound and hearing.

Full Of Comforting Facts

A Western Electric hearing aid specialist was quoted as saying that he believes "Modern Science and Your Hearing" will be found useful not only by those who suffer a hearing loss, but also by people who have loved ones and friends seeking a better way to better hearing.

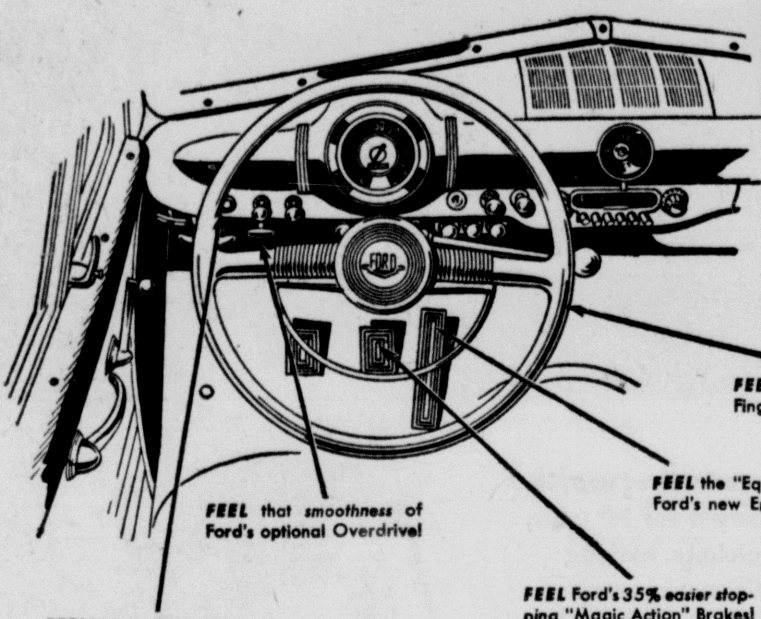

It contains many comforting facts about what can be done to help the hard of hearing.

Free To Anyone

Western Electric will be glad to furnish a free copy of the valuable booklet, while the present supply lasts, to anyone writing them at this address: Western Electric Co., Dept. 380-10, 195 Broadway, New York 7, New York.

Professors Make Strong Protest On Dismissal

SEATTLE, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Sharp protest was registered today by three University of Washington professors over loss of their jobs for past or present membership in the Communist party.

The trio called the board of regents action a "blow to academic freedom and civil liberties" and appealed to the American Association of University Professors. The regents ordered the three professors dismissed, effective Feb. 1.

Joseph Butterworth, associate professor of English for 19 years, asserted the action "cannot and will not stand."

Ralph Gundlach, associate professor of psychology for 22 years, who was charged by President Raymond B. Allen with "ambiguous relationship" with the Communist party, dug his own ouster "guilt by association."

Herbert J. Phillips, 29 years an assistant professor of philosophy, countered with a 1,000-word letter in his defense which was called "bunk" by Denzil Walters, editor of the Washington Daily.

Phillips admitted former membership in the Communist party at a hearing on red activities on the Washington campus held last summer.

ONE MAN CLEARED OF IMPLICATION IN BLAIR CO. ROBBERY

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Louis Sprucio, 45, of Hartford, Conn., also known as Spencer and Zawadski, was cleared today by the Blair county court of implication in the $20,000 holdup of Daniel Lamont, Altoona sportsman.

Judge Chester Fetterhoff ruled that the commonwealth had not established a prima facie case against Sprucio, who was being held under $50,000 bond.

FREEDOM DAY

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—(INS)—National Freedom Day, February 1, marking adoption of the 13th Amendment to the Federal Constitution ending slavery 84 years ago was hailed today by Gov. James H. Duff.

"This amendment is deserving of recognition as one of the greatest human documents of modern time," he said. "It marked a great forward step in human liberty and wrote into law the declaration that 'all men are created equal.'"

The governor also endorsed National Social Hygiene Day, February 12 and called for "greater understanding of the venereal disease problem."

Tax Exoneration Measure Passed

City council in meeting Monday in the municipal hall, by motion of Property Director Joseph D. Alexander, adopted the Alexander ordinance which authorizes the council to exonerate any merchant, tile tax, which shall be assessed and levied within the city, against any business, the owner of which has been required to pay a tax on the net profit of his business for the same year, to the extent (not exceeding $100), which is the limit of the mercantile tax for any one year of the net profits tax paid by the owner in his business during that particular year.

The pecuniary is a distant cousin of the domestic pig and the European wild boar, but seldom takes on fat. He is native to the American south west and very difficult for hunters to stalk.

Payroll Clerk To Be Appointed

Council in meeting Monday in City Hall adopted an ordinance submitted by Finance Director Albert Hoyland which authorizes the appointment of a payroll clerk in the accounts and finance bureau, at a salary of $187.50 monthly. It is reported Miss Blanch Davy, now a county employee, is to assume the duties February 1.

She will have charge of making and keeping the payrolls, preparation of all tax returns, retention, keeping of all accounts of the mercantile tax collector or any delinquent tax collectors, and keeping of other accounts, as she shall be directed by the finance director.

Rates Going Up On Stamped Envelopes

Prices On Larger Orders Will Be Increased Next Week, Hanna States

Rates on stamped envelopes will be increased Feb. 1, Postmaster William Hanna announced today.

Orders for envelopes with the return addresses printed on them may be placed up to the close of business on Jan. 31 at the present rate, the postmaster said. Unprinted, or plain, envelopes are purchased directly from the post office and will change in price beginning with the Feb. 1 purchases.

The individual purchaser buying two or three envelopes will not be affected by the price change, which ranges from 68 to 76 cents per 1000.

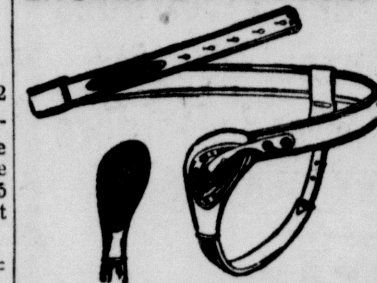

No price change is shown until at least five envelopes are purchased, and then an additional penny is charged. Other penny raises will be seen by the individual purchaser as his order goes up to ten, 15 or 20 envelopes.

Find Fortune In Home After Death Of Elderly Woman

Relative Of Woman Is Located In
New Castle According To
Pittsburgh Report

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Police today located a relative of the wealthy recluse, widow of a steel company official, who died shortly after she was found unconscious in her Oakland district home.

The dead woman is Mrs. Myrtle E. Matthews, about 60, who succumbed Sunday of a cerebral hemorrhage about an hour after she was admitted to a Pittsburgh hospital. Her husband, Verndin Matthews, died in Steubenville, O., in 1934.

Police said that a series of telephone calls, they found a sister-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Ziegler of New Castle, Pa., who presumably will make funeral arrangements.

Summoned by a neighbor, police found the elderly woman unconscious on a day-bed in the living room of her eight-room house. Most of the house was littered with papers, according to officers, and covered with the dust of years. Detective Lieutenant John J. O'Connor said he found stock and bank accounts worth $20,000 to $25,000 in the house, as well as correspondence with the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., which indicated Mrs. Matthews was a stockholder in the firm.

Women Of Moose Attend Convention

Twenty-eight New Castle Women of the Moose, traveled by bus, Sunday afternoon, to attend the convention of the Women of the Moose of Pennsylvania, in Farrell.

New Castle's chapter was honored by being asked to conduct the initiation of a class of 17 ladies from various chapters in Pennsylvania. The initiation was under the supervision of Mrs. Agnes Fisher, senior regent of New Castle Lodge 8. The ritualistic work was under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Grittle, Ritualistic chairlady of New Castle, and her committee. This convention meeting honored Mrs. Katherine Smith, grand chancellor of the college of regents, who was celebrating her sixtieth birthday.

Mrs. Edith Poorbaugh, of the college of regents of Sharon, introduced various chapters. Speaker of the New Castle chapter was Mrs. Elgin McConnell.

Approximately 200 women participated in a dinner, served at 6:30 o'clock, under the supervision of Margaret McConnell, senior regent of Farrell, who welcomed the ladies of the various chapters. Women of the Moose of Farrell, then presented a Home Talent Show, which was enjoyed by all present.

Three Small Fires Here Over Weekend

City firemen answered alarms for three small fires here over the week-end none of which were of a serious nature. Fire Chief Steinbrink reported today.

At 7:55 a. m. this morning firemen were called to Highland avenue, where a new home is being constructed by the Terrace Avenue trade school, in the 1600 block. Workmen overturned an oil stove being used to dry out the plastering. No damage resulted.

At 6:40 p. m. Saturday seventh ward firemen were called to the home of Mrs. C. Lepore of 207 South First street, where some rags were found afire. There was no material damage.

At 2:42 p. m. Saturday firemen were called to the building occupied by the City News Co., 322 East Washington street, where workmen, welding a fire escape, set fire to a can of paint. No loss resulted.

CUTS HAND

Chester Nastal, 24 years, was injured Sunday morning when the scissors he was using slipped and cut the palm of his left hand. He was treated in the New Castle hospital and later discharged.

School Teachers To Have Meeting

Relationship Of Athletics To School
Educational System To Be Discussed

Some suggested changes in the relationship of athletics to the educational system of the public schools are expected to be made Wednesday night by the teachers.

A meeting of the New Castle chapter, Pennsylvania State Educational Association will be held in the senior high school at eight o'clock. At this meeting the report of a study made by teachers of the senior high school will be made.

In the past few weeks such a study has been under way in an effort to make objective recommendations. The charge of overemphasis of school athletics has been under discussion and a factual report is being prepared. This report will go before the PSEA meeting for action.

The meeting Wednesday night will be headed by the chapter president, Miss Grace Dodson, and it will be for members of the PSEA only, that is, teachers, principals, supervisors, nurses and school medical and dental men.

Site Turned Over For Cribbs Home

Citizens of Meadville have turned over to the Cribbs Memorial Home for Aged Methodists a 16-acre plot of land outside the city.

When the new home is built the present home in Conneautville will be abandoned. The Meadville Chamber of Commerce put on a campaign for $8000 to purchase the land and the committee in charge of the selection of a site for the new home accepted it.

An Erie conference campaign for half a million dollars was completed last summer for the erection of a new home.

Membership Drive At Shenango Y Is Now In Progress

At a general public meeting held in the Shenango street branch YMCA Sunday afternoon, the branch held the formal opening of its fourth membership campaign.

William McDanel, of the management committee presided. Jerome Cooper, chairman of the membership committee opened the meeting with a prayer. R. L. Meer-mans, general secretary of the YMCA in New Castle was called upon for a few remarks. He in turn introduced the principal speaker, J. Preston Flaherty, who expressed genuine interest in the success of the drive and offered several stimulating points that will serve as inspiration for the captains and workers.

Cards were assigned to each of the captains and next Sunday, January 30, was set as the day for the first report.

It is the plan of the membership committee to have the goal of 350 members by February 20. Dr. J. A. Gillespie, chairman of the board of the branch, in his concluding remarks expressed the feeling that good hard work by each of the workers would make it possible to reach the goal.

Son-In-Law Held For Slaying In Pittsburgh Home

Mother-In-Law Also Wounded In Argument Over Grandson Living In Home

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—A 15-year-old boy's reluctance to change schools as his family moved about the country today was given as one reason for the fatal shooting of his grandfather and the serious injury to his grandmother. Mrs. Myrtle Bepler, 63, of nearby Warrendale was still in "very serious condition" at a Pittsburgh hospital from bullet wounds in the arm and abdomen.

Police arrested Meredith G. Neal, 49, of Seattle on a charge of murdering his father-in-law, Henry S. Bepler, 67, and wounding Mrs. Bepler. Bepler died in the hospital Sunday afternoon from pistol wounds in the chest and abdomen. Police said Neal, an airplane patternmaker, drove to the Bepler home near Warrendale Saturday night and had a violent argument with Bepler in the living room when the father-in-law attempted to prevent him from talking with his son, Noel A.

Fired Two Shots
Officers said Neal senior drew a .32 automatic and fired two shots into Bepler at close range. When Mrs. Bepler came toward the living room, he shot her twice. According to police the 15-year-old boy had been making his home with his grandparents. The youth told officers he had attended six different schools as his father moved about the country, and he "wanted to stay where he was."

He had lived with his grandparents off and on ever since he could remember. Police said there had been an angry exchange of letters between parents and the grandparents over the boy remaining with the Beplers.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Neal, who recently recovered from an operation, was due in Pittsburgh today by plane from Seattle.

Legislature Is Awaiting Budget Plans Of Governor

Both Branches Of State Legislature To Resume Sessions This Afternoon

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—(INS) Legislative schedules hinge today on Gov. James H. Duff's budget message.

Duff gave no indication to lawmakers when he will disclose the biennial recommendations. Sources close to the chief executive say he has confided in "no one" about his plans or even whether the budget has been completed.

Lawmakers plainly are holding off all major business until the governor discloses his financial blueprint for the commonwealth's activities for the 1949-51 biennium opening June 1.

The assembly leadership has indicated that it will speed all available non-controversial legislation through both houses to "clear the decks" for consideration of administration measures which will follow the budget.

The senate will convene today at 4 p. m., and the house 30 minutes later.

Highlighting the day's business will be senate action on a constitutional amendment to establish the financial structure for the $500,000,000 soldiers' bonus.

Two Japanese Tell Of Surrender After Being In Hiding Four Years

TOKYO, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Two Japanese who surrendered on Iwo Jima after hiding underground for four years without once seeing the sun were flown to Tokyo Saturday.

The Japanese, both sailors, were identified as Rikio Matsudo and Kofuku Yamakage.

They were bewildered by the almost incredible difficulties they encountered in giving themselves up after emerging from their underground hideout.

The two men said they found a magazine on one of their secret forays from their cramped hide-away and by moonlight looked at pictures showing American soldiers fraternizing with Japanese in Tokyo.

They debated for ten days before deciding to surrender and then walked from their hideout for the first time into daylight. They wore tattered stolen GI clothes.

In Hiding Four Years
They thought they had been hiding out about two years and a half and it was only after their surrender they discovered that four years had passed.

Matsudo told of his strange experience after they stepped with blinking eyes into the sunlight.

"We walked to a road," he said, "and a truck stopped but the young soldier at the wheel drove off when he was unable to understand us."

"We walked about 500 yards while five or six cars passed us and then sat down and smoked a cigarette."

"A lone soldier in a jeep stopped and motioned us to enter. He made us get off at a motor pool and then drove away, saying nothing."

"There were lots of soldiers around but everybody ignored us. We sat around smoking for about an hour and finally decided to find headquarters."

"There was a building with lights burning although it was daylight so we thought it was important. We entered and found it was a latrine.

Unable To Understand Language
"The next building we entered was a beer hall."

"We finally located the headquarters office by the Japanese machine guns mounted in front of it."

The two men said they were almost unable to understand their own language when spoken aloud at first because they had talked in whispers during their four-year hideout.

Yamakage said Matsudo had a hilarious time his first night in captivity—he got drunk on two beers.

Both were grateful for the kindly treatment they received from American soldiers. They said they would gladly return to farm life.

The two men were taken from Iwo Jima to Guam where they gained ten pounds and new clothes before being flown to Tokyo.

Hearings Open On Reciprocal Trade Agreements Law

Secretary Acheson Invited To Appear Before Congress Committee To Give Views

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson was invited to Capitol Hill to present his views on world trade as hearings opened today on extension of the reciprocal trade agreements law.

The invitation was extended to the newly-sworn-in cabinet officer by Rep. Doughton (D-N.C.), chairman of the house ways and means committee.

Doughton said he hopes Acheson will find his way clear to appear before the committee and state his position on tariffs.

Meanwhile, Willard L. Thorp, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, was scheduled as the first witness.

Doughton expressed confidence that his committee will repeal the amendments to the law enacted by the Republican 80th congress and report out the administration bill he has introduced after about a week of hearings.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) said the measure probably would be called up on the floor early in February and predicted speedy passage.

Doughton's bill extends the reciprocal trade agreements law from June 30, 1949, to June 12, 1951, with all Republican amendments repealed. The act thus would be restored to the form in which it was first enacted in 1934.

Woman Killed, Husband Hurt; Struck By Auto

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Philip Pottok, 40, of Pittsburgh, was in "fair condition" today in a Pittsburgh hospital after an auto accident which cost him his right leg and caused the death of his 40-year-old wife, Rose.

Police held G. H. Palmer, 59, of nearby Wilkensburg under $10,000 bond on a manslaughter charge. Police said the Pottoks were pinned against a utility pole in Pittsburgh Saturday night when Palmer's car crashed against a street car, leaped the curb and sheared off a fire-plug.

The Pottoks had just closed their meat market and had crossed the street to wait for a street car. Police reported the couple was unable to avoid the careening car.

Mrs. Pottok's right leg was severed and her left crushed in the accident. She died early Sunday morning.

Truman's Plan Causes Storm

Plan To Submit Atlantic Defense Pact To Senate Alone Is Opposed

HOUSE MEMBERS MUCH AROUSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—A storm broke out today on Capitol Hill over President Truman's plan to submit the Atlantic defense pact to the senate alone for consideration.

Rep. Bloom (D N. Y., chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, indicated he will file a protest with Secretary of State Acheson and urged house as well as senate action.

The administration leader said the military pact now being drawn up between the United States, Canada, Great Britain, France and other western European nations is more in the nature of an "agreement" than a "treaty."

Bloom said: "I was under the impression that it would be sent up as an agreement and thus be subject to approval by both houses and I still think it should be. I shall take the matter up with Mr. Acheson and see if something can't be done."

Rep. Eaton of New Jersey, top-ranking committee Republican and a strong administration supporter on international affairs, said it had been his understanding that it would be submitted to both houses for approval.

Subterfuge Hinted
Rep. Jackson (R) Wash., another committee member, declared that "anything which tends to defeat the will of congress as a whole" is a subterfuge.

Jackson added: "Certainly, anything which connotes the power to make war should be acted upon by the rep-representatives of the people in the house of representatives."

House Majority Whip Priest (D) Tenn., also added his voice. He said:

"My personal feeling is that it more properly should be sent to both houses as an agreement because it has to be implemented with considerable funds."

Appropriation bills originate in the house.

Many members expressed the view that the Atlantic pact is in the same category as the lend-lease agreement and the United Nations relief and rehabilitation agreement, both of which were submitted to the house and senate.

House Minority Whip Arents (R) Ill., commented:

"I thought it would come up as an agreement and would be discussed fully by the house as well as the senate. I think the house ought to be considered on this important matter."

Rep. Mansfield (D) Mont., another strong administration foreign policy supporter, said the pact, designed to protect western European nations against a possible onslaught by communist armies, would be weakened if only part of congress gave its approval.

Two Are Killed, One Injured In Crash Of Plane

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 24.—(INS)—The names of two navy men who were burned to death in the crash of a DC-6 navy personnel plane one-half mile east of the Toledo municipal airport were revealed today.

Officials at Glenview (Ill.) naval air station, base of the twin-engine plane, said the two crewmen were aviation machinist's mate second class Adrian Doiron, 27, of Chicago and chief aviation machinist's mate Joseph W. Murphy, 29, of Glenview, the co-pilot.

The pilot, Lt. (jg) Louis D. Robinson, 34, of Huntley, Ill., was injured critically last night when the plane overturned and exploded in a field while attempting to land at the airport.

The plane was returning from Norfolk, Va., to its Glenview, Ill., base with its crew of three when it crashed.

The diameter of the earth is about 26 miles greater at the Equator than from pole to pole.

Veterans Backing Housing Program Set Up By Duff

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff's proposed low and middle income housing program for veterans and other home seekers was backed "in principle" today by the Veterans of Foreign Wars council of administration.

State Commander Hiram V. Hartman of New Kensington pointed out the organization's stand was based on Duff's proposal of state subsidies to "get houses built."

"Thousands of veterans in our organizations need homes," Hartman said. "We are looking to the governor and the legislature to make it possible for private enterprise and state government-aided builders to build homes."

Council representatives met at Harrisburg yesterday to discuss the housing program and to consider other problems.

Members authorized a four-day convention at Philadelphia in July, voted not to change VFW district boundaries and agreed to eliminate drum and bugle corps competition and substitute prizes awarded to corps on parade.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 24.—Lizabeth Scott would like to get married, but the kind of guy she has in mind is scarier than a corset in a nudist camp.

The sultry screen siren, who claims she really is a homebody and super cook, bemoans the fact that gents having the qualities she likes shy away from gals who happen to be movie stars.

"It's a cinch to get hitched, blended, welded or whatever you call it," declared sensible Scott. "There are plenty of men. But fellows in Hollywood suffer from several vocational handicaps."

Plenty Conceited
"Most of them are conceited. Others get dates with actresses simply because they want to be seen in public. And some of the males around Hollywood are ultra-malesterialistic."

The blonde babe who made more pictures last semester than any top star complained: "The normal, sensible average-type of man doesn't think he could keep a movie actress entertained."

"The average young doctor is a good example. Or a new attorney or a merchant struggling to get a foothold in business. They figure because a gal earns her living in pictures she expects to be wined and dined nightly and have box seats at all sporting events."

Spend Plenty
"These fellows read the gossip columns and think they'd have to spend more money in one night on an actress than they budget for a whole month's entertainment."

Liz said such reasoning is crazy. "We girls," she argued, "have just as much fun going for a ride, chewing popcorn at a movie or eating in medium priced restaurants. We like to do the same things that young women in other lines of business enjoy."

That's what Liz said! But personally we haven't seen any movie actress who would stand in a chow line in a cafeteria or take a spin in a 1939 jalopy.

"And another thing," she popped

Gen. MacArthur Hails Result Of Japan's Election

TOKYO, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur hailed tonight the outcome of Japan's parliamentary election as a triumph for the "conservative philosophy of government."

In a brief statement, the Allied supreme commander declared: "The peoples of the free world everywhere can take satisfaction in this enthusiastic and orderly Japanese election which, at a critical moment in Asiatic history, has given so clear and decisive a mandate for the conservative philosophy of government."

Observers noted that the general made no mention of the considerable gains recorded by Japan's Communist party in the house of representatives as a result of yesterday's balloting.

Some officials at MacArthur's occupation headquarters however expressed concern over the effect the Communist successes might have on present efforts to unseat Communist leadership from some of the Japanese labor unions.

Cotton Warehouse Destroyed By Fire

FRESNO, Cal., Jan. 24.—(INS)—A spectacular fire raged early today at a large cotton warehouse six miles north of Fresno, causing damage estimated up to a million dollars.

Some 5,000 to 7,000 bales of cotton were believed destroyed inside the warehouse which was owned by Cecil F. White, a Democratic member of the U. S. House of Representatives.

No casualties were reported in the blaze which authorities believe may have been of incendiary origin.

Carnegie Museum To Be Enlarged

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The Carnegie museum and fine arts department made plans today to enlarge the child and adult education program as the result of a $133,000 gift from the Howard Heintz endowment.

Announcement of the gift was made Sunday. The money will go to the Carnegie Institute which was established by Andrew Carnegie to promote the interests of science and arts in Pittsburgh.

Not including funds set aside by Carnegie, it is the largest single gift to the institute in its 50-year history.

Nearly 2,000 planetoids or tiny planets have been catalogued by astronomers.

Brannan Asked About Truman's Farm Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Capitol Hill called Agriculture Secretary Brannan today for a tip-off on how far the administration wants to go in liberalizing the Republican enacted farm program.

Brannan was asked to appear in a closed-door meeting of the senate agriculture committee for a preliminary talk on revision of the Aiken bill, which figured in the farm state upset of Republican hopes last November.

The key question is whether the Truman administration will go along with demands for continuance of the wartime basic crop supports at 90 per cent of the estimated "parity" price or stick to the flexible floor program of the Aiken act.

"Adequate" Farm Program
President Truman has called for an "adequate" farm program but has not said specifically whether he wants to scrap the Aiken plan.

The Aiken measure, which becomes effective next January, sets up a sliding scale of supports reaching from 60 to 90 per cent of parity—larger in lean years and smaller when bumper crops occur.

Parity is the estimated price level which would give the farmer the same purchasing power he had in other years. The era of 1910 to 1914 used to be the base period. The Aiken measure uses a movable period covering the preceding ten years.

Brannan took a hand in writing the flexible parity legislation and Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) declared that the agriculture department was in complete agreement on its major points.

To Speed Action On Proposal Vs. Filibustering

Senator Promises 'Morning, Afternoon And Night Hearings' If They Are Needed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), promised today to demand "morning, afternoon and night" hearings if necessary to speed Senate action on a rule change to tighten its gag on filibusters.

The Californian, co-sponsor of an amendment broadening application of the cloture (gag) limitation, said he will make his stand clear at today's opening of public hearings on proposed revision of the Senate rules.

Knowland is a minority member of the Senate rules committee, and will be among the senators testifying in behalf of five proposed resolutions to alter the cloture rule. Knowland said:

"We won't let any grass grow under our feet on the Republican side. The time to go to work on the cloture problem is now—early in the session—when there is no other business of consequence before the Senate.

"I'm going to insist that our hearings continue morning, afternoon and night, if necessary, so we can get this matter to the floor."

Sens. More (R-Ore.) and Pepper (D-Fla.), who also have amendments pending, were expected to testify today. Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.), another member of the committee, who, as a southerner, opposes limitation of debate, plans to appear later.

Within recent years new and improved bottom paints for ships, containing mercury, have done much to discourage the damaging growth of barnacles on the ships.

SCOTLAND FUNNY BOOKS RECEIVED

Boys and girls of the Margaret L. Henry Home, Friendship street, are the recipients of a box of funny books from Scotland, a gift from the "Sunday Mail," a Scotch publication.

Mrs. Marjorie Albert of 622 Superior street had received the paper and had been in communication with it. She wrote and requested the comic books which were sent to her and she in turn gave them to the Home. The paper printed an account of her gift to the Margaret Henry Home.

The first meeting will be in East Brook Grange Hall at 10:30 o'clock, and the second will be at 1:30 o'clock in the New Wilmington Fire hall.

Missing Treasurer Of Snyder County Is Held In Texas

MIDDLEBURG, Pa., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Ray G. F. Leach missing 22-year-old Snyder County treasurer connected with an $1,100 treasury shortage, today was reported arrested at his sister's home at Harlingen, Texas.

Snyder County District Attorney

Horace W. Vought said a letter from the sister, Mrs. W. R. McDaniels, to another, Mrs. Gene Herrold, of Sunbury, Pa., tipped him off. Mrs. Herrold forwarded the letter to Vought.

Vought said he telephoned Harlingen police yesterday to make the arrest.

Leach disappeared January 4. County Auditors Charles Wagner and Phoebe Wetzel reported a shortage of $1,100 in the treasury account and indicated other county funds were "unaccounted for."

After a telephone conversation with Leach, Vought said Leach told him he was "relieved that his flight was over and promised a full statement upon his return."

Two state police officers will take a plane to Texas tonight. Leach told Vought he would waive extradition. He will drive back to Pennsylvania in his automobile in the company of the police.

Set 8 Cents Per Mile

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Named as the defendant in an injunction suit, Mrs. Elsie A. Streiner acted as her own attorney on Saturday morning before Judge W. Walter Braham.

The case was one brought by Dr. Mildred Rogers against Mrs. Streiner. Dr. Rogers seeks an injunction against the blocking of ingress and egress at the rear of her property on North Mercer street.

Dr. Rogers claimed she had an easement over an alley in the rear of her property permitting her to use it for getting in and out of her property. She claimed Mrs. Streiner had erected a barrier across the alley.

Mrs. Streiner asked a number of questions. She also claimed the portion of the alley blocked was her property.

EIGHT CENTS PER MILE
Eight cents per mile will be allowed in the future for the use of cars used in county business. The commissioners hope to get back to the old system of paying mileage for cars instead of purchasing cars for the use of certain officials, with perhaps a car being purchased for the sheriff when it is needed.

LIGHT DISTRICT
Shenango township now has a light district in the East New Castle district. Lights have been erected from the city line on Washington street to a point just beyond the highway intersection.

This point was once known as Pumpkintown and Joyce.

Light districts are created by petition of residents in a district to the township supervisors. The supervisors then enter into a contract with the Pennsylvania Power Company. The company erects the poles and strings the wire, with each resident being assessed a pro rata share of the cost of light upon a front foot basis.

DOG LICENSES OVER 5,000
Dog owners are really heeding the injunction to get in early this year. The end of January will see an all time high in dog tags in the county treasurer's office with the number going to 6,000 it is thought.

There are an estimated 11,500 dogs in the county. In 1948 a little short of 10,500 were sold. Dog Agent McClure says the law will be enforced more vigorously this year.

Saturday morning saw a crowd of dog owners in the treasurer's office for tags. Some fishing licenses were also sold.

MOLNER PLEADS GUILTY
Jerry Molner, charged with burglary and larceny in the robbery of the Charles H. Wellendorf home on R. D. 2, pleaded guilty before Alderman James C. Brice on Saturday. He is in the county jail.

LIENS BEING CLEANED UP
Since assuming the office of County Treasurer, Don I. Neal has set for his goal while in office the cleaning up of all lien dockets.

With his staff doing an all out job, considerable progress has been made in a year. All liens have been cleaned up in the boros and townships up to January 1943, save 33 items which are still pending from 1931-36 37. In short, the liens have either been paid or the property sold.

The staff is now working upon the City of New Castle books. When the job is finally cleaned up, and it will take many months yet, Mr. Neal will be able to get rid of a lot of books in his office.

RETURNING GIFTS AFTER BROKEN ENGAGEMENT

"My son, who is in the army, has been engaged for six months. Now, the girl has expressed a desire to be free as 'absence has made her heart grow fonder for someone else.' Just what should she return to my son and she. He has given her an engagement ring, a diamond watch for Christmas and a diamond pin for her birthday, in addition to a few other more or less minor gifts. I have given her some of my good linens and a few pieces of silver for their home."

Answer: She should, without hesitation, return the engagement ring, since it really does not belong to her until after the contract has been sealed with a wedding ring. This is according to the law, in case she defaults and he cares to press his suit. Your linens and silver should, likewise, be returned to you since they were meant for the woman who becomes your son's wife and graces his home. If she does not offer to return these, you may, with propriety, ask for them.

This applies to money given to her for furniture and other items incidental to her marriage. The watch, pin and any other items given to her as personal Christmas, birthday or other gifts may and should be retained by her. If your son has fitted her, I should say she might be justified in keeping everything she received.

Question: On which arm of her father should the bride go to the altar and on which arm of the bridegroom should she leave the church?

Answer: She should go up the aisle on the right arm of her father. When the bridegroom approaches, she relinquishes her father's arm, changes her bouquet from her right to her left arm and gives her hand to the bridegroom, who puts her right arm through his left. After the ceremony, she should go down the aisle on the right arm of her new husband.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers including stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Friday evening, at 8, members of the Davis Bible class will be entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell McClure, of Mt. Jackson road. Cars will leave the church at eight o'clock, for those who desire transportation. Rev. Petrie will be guest speaker at the City Rescue Mission, on Tuesday evening.

Mahoningtown Presbyterian—Members of the K.J.U. Bible class will be guests on Tuesday evening, of Mrs. P. A. Gibson, of West Madison avenue, at 8 o'clock.

Short Circuit Club
At DeAngelis Home

Members of the Short Circuit club were guests of Miss Laura DeAngelis, of 13 West Madison avenue, at her home on Sunday afternoon.

Cards were the diversion of the afternoon. The door prize was won by Miss Pauline SanAngelo.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostess, with Miss Betty Russo as her aide.

Misses Pauline and Frances Caporino were special guests.

February 13, is the date scheduled for the next meeting of the group, with Miss Carmella Colli, of 204 South First street.

Fellowship Class
With Mrs. E. Walker

At the home of Mrs. Eugene Walker, of 220 West Sheridan avenue, members of the McClurg Fellowship of Mahoningtown Presbyterian church were entertained on Friday evening with Mrs. Mildred McClure associate hostess. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Walker.

The business session was in charge of Mrs. Robert McClure. A social period followed and various games were enjoyed.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess and co-hostess, Miss Eileen Scheidemantle, of 407 Fifth street, will be hostess to the group on Friday evening, February 18.

Birthday Club At
Stritzinger Home

At the home of Mrs. A. F. Stritzinger, of 800 West Clayton street, members of the Birthday Club were entertained on Saturday evening.

A sumptuous dinner was served by the hostess, at 6:30 assisted by her daughter Gloria.

Games of contest were the diversion of the evening. Mrs. George Huff won the first prize, and Mrs. Hugh Stewart captured the special prize.

Mrs. J. D. Thompson of Albert street will be hostess to the club during February.

Train With War Dead
Passes Through Ward

According to word from J. H. McCann of West Clayton street, a Baltimore and Ohio railroad train left Willard, Ohio, Saturday afternoon, about half an hour ahead of his Diesel freight train, coming from the west, with 593 war dead aboard, passing through the ward about ten or ten thirty Saturday evening.

Mabel Wilson Lodge
Will Meet Tuesday

On Tuesday evening, members of Mabel Wilson Lodge No. 567 will meet in the lodge room, North Liberty street, at eight o'clock.

The January birthdays will be honored. The social committee who will be in charge are Mrs. William G. Sapper and Mrs. Nick Perrotta.

SEVENTH WARD NOTES

On Tuesday, about noon, the Seventh Ward Civic club will meet in Hyde's Drug store, for regular meeting.

Miss Alice Sinibaldi of North Wayne street, who has been ill at her home for a week, is somewhat improved.

Miss Thelma Bumbaugh, of Hiram College, Ohio, visited over the week end, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh, of Sixth street.

Mrs. Charles Chambers of West Clayton street, has left for Quincy, Mass., where she is visiting with her son Paul and family. Paul is recuperating after an operation for appendicitis.

Following the rain, and temperate weather of Sunday evening, the fog in the ward was quite dense this morning, especially in the vicinity of Willow Grove. Fog commenced to lift about 10 o'clock. Cars were somewhat hard to start, possibly from accumulated moisture under the hood.

An atmosphere of ease and relaxation at home is helpful to the stuttering child, as is the use of only one spoken language.

She Just 'Wants To Go Home'

SHIRLEY ANN FAIR

Shirley Ann's wants are simple. They are wants that might be expected of any four-year-old. She wants hot dogs to eat.

And she wants to go home.

She can have the hot dogs, and anything else she wants to eat.

But she'll never go home to live with her parents and nine brothers and sisters in West Pittsburg.

For "it's just a matter of time," they say at New Castle hospital, where Shirley Ann has been a patient for more than three months.

Shirley Ann is the ninth of 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Fair. Her father is a carpenter for the B. & O. Railroad.

Trouble Started Last September

The trouble started last September when Shirley began to limp.

And complain of a pain in her hip. Finally, on October 14, she entered the hospital and an operation revealed the malignant condition in her pelvic bone.

Deep X-ray treatment was started, but a month later the same condition appeared in one lung. Then it spread to the other lung.

Now Shirley Ann gets X-ray therapy of her lungs three times a week to relieve the difficulty in her breathing. The treatments nauseate her so that she can't eat for a couple of meals afterwards.

Not even hot dogs.

Wants To Go Home

In her first weeks at the hospital Shirley Ann won the hearts of the nurses in the Children's and childish chatter. But now she laughs less often and periods of listlessness grow more frequent as the ravages of her illness slowly sap her strength.

And she cries to go home.

Her mother visits her daily, and she takes her home, too, because they want her there when the end comes. But the doctors say her suffering can only be alleviated at the hospital, and "while there's life there's hope."

And Shirley Ann is getting all the treatment that present medical science can provide—X-ray penicillin, vitamins—and the loving care of the women in white.

But it's not enough. She won't be going home.

Seeking To Break
Conference Deadlock
On Defense Alliance

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Foreign ministers of Norway, Sweden, and Denmark conferred today in a last-minute attempt to break the Copenhagen deadlock on the proposed Scandinavian defense alliance.

Conference observers expressed doubts that the ministers would be able to settle satisfactorily the question of whether the three powers should join the U.S.-backed North Atlantic military pact.

The current defense talks, scheduled to end last night, were prolonged in an effort to reconcile differing views held by Sweden and Norway.

The problem of joining the North Atlantic alliance will probably be carried over to next Saturday's Oslo conference, where a full statement on the present meeting will be issued.

NO PRIVACY HERE

TOLEDO, O.—(INS)—The International City Manager's association reports that Toledo's council plans to install public address and wire recording systems in order that interested citizens may be fully informed on the procedures of council meetings.

City Hall

Many Projects
Before Council

Members Take Action On City Matters At City Hall
Session Monday

OTHER NEWS OF
CITY AFFAIRS

Council convened Monday in council chambers, Municipal building, and among items transacted was the adoption of the ordinance submitted by Director R. I. Davis calling for the appointment and compensation of deputy tax collectors, for the purpose of collecting delinquent city taxes which have been turned over to the city solicitor for filing and preservation. The compensation was not stated in the ordinance. The city treasurer is authorized to make the appointments. The school board has agreed with the move, Secretary John B. Bechtel informed council.

By motion of Property Director Joseph D. Alexander, council adopted the Alexander ordinance vacating and abandoning Locust street in the First ward from the north line of Leasure avenue northward to the city line; and authorizing the assessment and payment of damages therefor. No part of the land has ever been dedicated to the public use or taken by the city. The Jameson Memorial hospital association desires to use that part of the or-dained Locust street, which passes across its land, for the extension of its hospital facilities. This city has no desire or need to open a street across the said land or to pay for the taking of the land which would be necessary to open such a street.

Transfer Funds
By motion of Streets Director James Gibson, council adopted an ordinance appropriating $105,000, proceeds from the sale of the city building, for construction of the new city structure at Grant and North Jefferson streets.

By resolution of Parks Director Joseph D. Alexander, council granted permission to Glenn Latimer and Ted Castelle to operate a merry-go-round at Cascade Park next summer.

By resolution of Safety Director R. I. Davis, council decided to put a street light on the second pole in Hazelcroft avenue, east of Highland avenue, which is in the Gillfillan plot.

Council authorized City Clerk Jack Fritz to order thousands of tax forms from Miller, Pyle and Streets, upon recommendation of Tax Receiver Lewis McClung.

Council approved the request of Gene Schweinsberg of the Ludwig Bill Posting company to place 25 foot high poster panels, as follows: on the Dufford block, Boyles alley (P. & L. E. R.R. drive); Wall street, between Taylor and Division streets, and at 605 West State street, between Lowry and Sankey streets.

Suggests Tax Conference

Mayor John F. Haven suggested that a conference be held between New Castle and Youngstown city councils relative to the Earned Income tax. The finance director of Youngstown, who is not a councilman, has refused to give credit to New Castle workers employed there for taxes paid here.

Assistant Solicitor Robert Jamison and Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna were authorized by council to attend a traffic conference to be conducted by the State Bar Association and the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce at Harrisburg, February 2. Council also authorized Mayor John F. Haven to attend a mayor's conference at Harrisburg, February 3, in regard to Third Class City proposed legislation. Council also plans to attend the Third Class Cities league convention in Harrisburg, August 8-9-10, inclusive.

ESTABLISH RYAN AVENUE
Streets Director James Gibson submitted an ordinance establishing Ryan avenue between Stanton avenue and Cascade street, as a 50-foot width street. The ordinance also authorizes the opening and grading of the street where William and Samuel Mooney to install a sanitary sewer at their cost. The ordinance was sent to, favored in, then reported back from committee.

Mr. Gibson also introduced an ordinance fixing the width of Boyles alley (which runs along the Dufford block—P. & L. E. R.R. driveway) between East Washington street, at 40 feet. It also provides for the opening, condemning of lands of J. A. and Elizabeth McCormick, and for the payment of benefits and damages. The ordinance is yet in committee.

Two Sentenced
For Fraudulent
Passport Dealings

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Former U.S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin and two former deputy clerks in the U.S. District Court were sentenced to 18 months jail terms each today for fraudulent dealings in passports.

The clerks were Warren J. Belcher, 39, of Philadelphia, and Robert T. Press, 41, of Rockledge, Pa. Judge Paul C. Leahy rejected pleas for suspended sentences.

Belcher and Press, who pleaded guilty, began their sentences immediately. Griffin was released on $1,000 bond when his attorney said he would file an appeal.

Sentences were postponed for two Chinese—Oscar Yew Hoh and John Lee, who pleaded guilty to conspiracy in the fraud.

Belcher pleaded guilty to taking "false acknowledgments" and fraudulent witness affidavits, prepared by Griffin, and authenticating them for passport purposes.

Press was accused of issuing certificates that falsely attested to the citizenship of Chinese. The government charged that he received as high as $100 for the certificates.

Griffin denied ever receiving any money or bribes from the Chinese involved. Belcher denied receiving bribes but admitted that he had been offered small tips.

The trial of former U.S. Commissioner Howard M. Long, who was accused with Press, has been delayed by Long's illness.

Four Undeclared Major Quintets

(By International News Service)

Six unbeaten college teams set out to score—but defense got two of them—today there are four.

Today, indeed, only four unbeaten college basketball teams—Western Kentucky, Minnesota, Hamline and Villanova—remained, following a week in which Akron, winner of the straight, went down before Duquesne by 63 to 43 and the famed cagers of St. Louis University took a 29-27 "control ball" lesson from the Oklahoma Aggies.

Western Kentucky Best

Western Kentucky, with three victories, including a 63-47 Saturday night conquest of Miami (Fla.), to show for its week's work headed the list with 15 victories included top-drawer foes like Bowling Green, Eastern Kentucky, Canisius, Long Island and Louisville.

At 13 triumphs apiece were these Minneapolis-and-St. Paul neighbors, Minnesota and Hamline. Minnesota, too, was a Saturday night winner, beating Indiana 35 to 28 in a game that wasn't half so close as the score indicates.

The Gophers' forthcoming Saturday night game at Illinois, with the western conference lead at stake, looms as possibly the top game of this week.

Villanova brings up the pack of four undefeated aces with 11 straight victories.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Notre Dame has reached into the southwest for another football opponent—this time the University of Texas.

Irish athletic officials announced late Saturday they have contracted for a two-game series with the Longhorns, the first game to be played Oct. 4, 1952, at Austin, Tex., and the second on Sept. 25, at Notre Dame.

The teams have met thrice in the past. Notre Dame won 30 to 7 and 36 to 7 in 1913 and 1915, both times at Austin. Texas won 7 to 6 at Notre Dame in 1934.

Mangrum Ahead In Money Derby

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Lloyd Mangrum, the dapper Texan, is taking right up where he left off in professional golfdom's money winnings derby.

Official Professional Golfers' Association figures for 1949 play to date showed today that Mangrum, who won the Los Angeles Open, has earned $2,600 as opposed to $1,900 for runner-up Dutch Harrison of Little Rock, Ark.

Ben Hogan, who topped Mangrum $32,112 to $31,290 in official P.G.A. earnings last season (actually Mangrum outearned bantam

Ben $45,898 to $26,812, is in a three-way tie for 11th place on the latest P. G. A. listings.

FRANKIE KOVACS WINS TITLE AGAIN

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Frank Kovacs, of Oakland, Cal., holds the National Professional clay court tennis title for the second year in a row today at St. Augustine.

The hard-hitting Kovacs defeated Welby Van Horn, of Philadelphia, yesterday in a gruelling three hour match. Kovacs rallied in the third set to win the match and the title, 2-6, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2.

During the 1947-48 season, North Carolina State won 29 of 32 basketball games, rolling up 2,409 points, a 75.2 per game average.

Higgins And Biddle Fight In The Arena Here Tonight

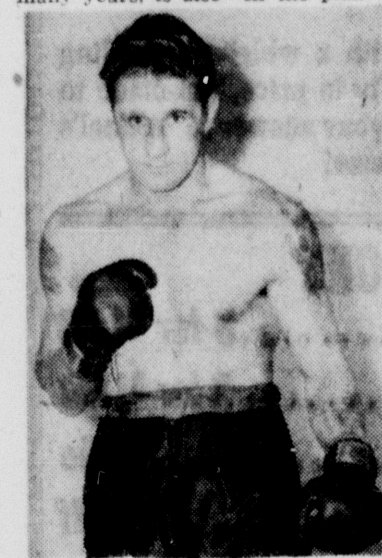

Pozza To Meet Johnny Fulton

Izzo Battles Bradley And Baxter Will Attempt Come Back Against Peaks

FIRST OF FIVE BOUTS BEGINS AT 8:30 P. M.

There'll be a five-bout punch party tonight in The Arena in which Jack Biddle, the glove-trotting veteran, will attempt to check the ascent of Chuck Higgins of Camp Hill, Pa., who in recent fights knocked out Mike Berkovich of Niles and Larry Huff of Pittsburgh. They are middleweights. The first embroglio will start at 8:30 p. m., and because it is the first Evening's Evenin' since November, a large crowd is expected to see the affairs.

Biddle reports he is in excellent condition. Higgins, his junior by many years, is also "in the pink."

JACK BIDDLE

Jack said this morning he figures his experience and dynamic left hook will prove too much for his younger opponent, who has youth in his favor. Higgins is equally confident.

They are listed for eight chapters.

Johnny Fulton of Pittsburgh, will box Bill Pozza, of Ellwood City, in the sixth round semi-final. First Jack Kendall of Columbus was booked and failed to sign articles. Then Bearcat Jones of Pittsburgh was signed, and he was injured in training. Fulton is a good heavy-weight, according to matchmaker Tommy Leach. Rizzeri Ronzi of Youngstown, will be present to challenge the winner.

There'll be plenty of action when Johnny Izzo, middleweight champion of Lawrence county by virtue of his stopping Russell Baxter, battles Bill Bradley, also Pozza, and can knock out an opponent. Bradley is game, takes a punch well and has won 10 of 16 professional bouts.

There'll be plenty of action when Johnny Izzo, middleweight champion of Lawrence county by virtue of his stopping Russell Baxter, battles Bill Bradley, also Pozza, and can knock out an opponent. Bradley is game, takes a punch well and has won 10 of 16 professional bouts.

One of the angles of tonight's fights is that each of the combatants will have to pay one per cent of their purses to the city tax collector. They will also have to have 1949 State Athletic Commission boxing licenses.

ART ROONEY SAYS, 'NO PRO GRID PEACE'

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Arthur J. Rooney, president of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football league, said today "there is no hope of peace with the rival All-American Conference."

Rooney, who returned from the league meeting in Chicago, claimed the matter did not come up for discussion. He said: "I had dinner with George Halas of the Chicago Bears and two AAC owners, Ben Lindheimer of the Los Angeles Dons and Arthur McClellan of the Cleveland Browns. We talked informally of our problems but that's as far as I got to any true."

Kessing Is New AAFC Leader

By CHARLES EINHORN

(International News Service Sports Writer) CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Oliver Owen Kessing, the new commissioner and president of the All-America Football Conference, has pledged the polite equivalent of war to the end with the National Football league.

The 58-year-old Kessing, former deputy commissioner of the AAC, succeeded Adm. Jonas Ingram, who has retired to his Coronado, Cal., to "raise roses," as he once put it. At the conclusion of last week's meetings in Chicago, during which the All-America Conference got up off its supposed deathbed to the great chagrin of the attendant National league, Kessing declared:

"We're in business for ourselves. The other league can operate any way it wants. They (the National league) have said all along it's a free country. Well, it is."

This statement met with a mixed reaction at the hands of those National league leaders who hadn't already left Chicago in a huff, a quandary, or a more familiar means of transportation. George Marshall, the president of the Washington Redskins, declared, after a bit of thought:

"It's a free country." The National league accomplished a good deal of business during its Chicago meeting. It agreed, for instance, that both teams may sit on the same side of the field if the home team so desires.

K. Pulaski Routs Farrell 51 To 34

Led by their star forward Mike Covelli, who meshed 25 points, the K. Pulaski "Big Five" basketball team easily defeated the previously unbeaten Farrell K. P. quintet Sunday afternoon at the local K. P. Hall, 51 to 34.

This was the first time the New Castle K. P. had ever knocked off the Farrell cagers and they did it very decisively. The entire K. P. team played well on offense and maintained a tight defense. The K. P. record now stands at 4 wins and 2 losses for the current basketball season.

RIFLE CLUB AT EAST PALESTINE

The New Castle rifle club will go to East Palestine tonight for a league shoot. This match concludes the first half of the loop race. The members are to meet at the Bloise Service station, corner of Taylor and Cunningham avenue, at 7 o'clock of make the trip.

Elks-Eagles Win Saturday

Elks Stop Ecclesian Club Streak With 48-46 Win, Eagles Win From Alpha Sigs

In one of the season's toughest thrill-packed games Saturday at the Washington H. floor, the Elks club 5 and 2' flashy quintet caused a four-team tie for the leadership of the City-County league by a mere whisker, 48 to 46, over the ram-ramping Ecclesian club team (5 and 2).

The George "Chick" Patterson coached Elks led the first three periods, but by the slimmest of margins. The first period 13 to 10, at the half 23 to 17, and the third period 13 to 10. The final period was a see-saw contest the entire way.

The exciting battle had the crowd on its feet all evening. This was only the second defeat for the Bullano coached Ecclesians in loop play.

The Elks, strengthened by the addition of Freddy Wimer, local well known star, were impressive. Wimer had 15 of the points to be high man. Bill Erce played a fine game for the Elks and had 12 points. Louis Kreuger and "Rags" Gennoek led the Ecclesians in tallying.

The same two teams will play a "March of Dimes" Kiwanis club benefit game Friday at the Washington floor, it was announced.

EAGLES WIN ONE

In the first game on the bill Saturday night the New Castle Eagles finally won one in the city-county league after losing five straight, by defeating the Alpha Sigma Phi of Westminster College 47 to 44 in a well played game, but, lost the services of their star forward, young Dick Hamilton, who suffered a severe gash over his right eye and had to have six stitches to close the laceration.

Wayne Gray and Pace led the Eagles in tallying with 12 and 11 points respectively. Laughlin led the losers in scoring.

It was announced today that big "Peck" Humphrey, star Eagles center who had a thumb amputated several weeks ago will be back in the lineup against the Elks next Saturday night. He has had a specially made leather covering made for his injured thumb.

Dignified Lions To Ride Donkeys

Picture if you can ten dignified members of the Lions Club, all prominent business and professional men, astride donkeys, playing basketball, polo, archery, boxing, having a tug-of-war and a relay "Lady Godiva" act.

Well, folks, Wednesday evening at the Arena on Grove street you will see the funniest antics you ever saw, donkeys and men alike. It's the big Lions Club Donkey Olympics Show. The starting time is 7:37 o'clock.

There are no reserved seats. First come first served. The tickets are $1.00 for advanced adult sale and 50c for students and children. At the gate adults will pay $1.25.

Lion Riders Named General chairman Richard I. Davis, local well known councilman, has named the following Lions members as riders of the donkeys in the various contests: Claude Jenkins, 6 foot, 6 inches; Walden Curley, William Smith, "Doc" Fletcher, Johnny Loudon, Bob Moorehouse, Frank "Gibby" Doerr and Davis himself.

Sheriff Frank Coen has been secured to be the referee of all contests.

For Blind Fund Miss Minnie B. Riley, directress of the show, will stage a dress rehearsal Tuesday evening and put the show together. There will be nine thrilling acts. Mayor John Haven will lead the list of prominent men acting as judges.

The proceeds of the show will go to the Lions club blind work relief fund, a very worthy cause. It's a laugh-a-minute show. Better plan to be there.

New Castle At Ellwood Tuesday

New Castle Seeks Second Section Win At Ellwood City Floor Tuesday

New Castle High basketball team will go after its second win in Section Three Tuesday evening at Ellwood City High floor.

The George Thomas coached machine, flustered by victory over Farrell, will probably find it tough for the other teams from here in.

Coach Thomas may decide to start the combination that finished the Farrell game: Lewis and Clarke at the forwards, Reed at center and Conti and Haines at the guards. This quintet clicked nicely.

Ellwood City will be striving for win No. 3 tomorrow night.

East Brook Trims Slippery Rock Vets

East Brook Boosters trimmed the Slippery Rock Vets Saturday night at the East Brook High floor, 68 to 44, with Carl Jameson the outstanding performer with 20 points, in a brilliant game. Morrow had 16, and Miller nine for the Boosters. Best for the Slippery Rock team were Hepe and Balough.

Local 3125 Meets Bessemer Tuesday

Pottery local 3125, now in a second place in the United States engineering in the C-I league, travels to Bessemer tomorrow night for an exhibition game with the powerful Legionnaires from the cement city.

The local has also carried many other games with some of the stronger teams from down in the valley for future exhibition tilts. Coach Nickie Ross wants the following players to report at the "Y" Tuesday night at seven for the trip to Bessemer: Bob Pitzer, Joey Cooper, Jay Thomas, Jim Vargo, Diz Santangelo, Ed Jacobs, Lefty Tanner, Al Christopher, Tempy, Johns, Stickle, Johnson, and Calabria.

Pirates Schedule 25 Night Games

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have 25 night games, six Sunday double-headers and one Memorial Day twin-bill at Forbes Field this season in the schedule released by Pirate officials today.

After opening the league season with a three-game series in Chicago, beginning April 19, the Pirates play the home opener with Cincinnati at Forbes Field April 22. Seventeen of the last 19 games are at home.

Cleveland's world-champion Indians have come up with a grapefruit schedule worthy of note. To begin with the Tribesmen, with 37 scheduled exhibition games, will have more pre-season contests than any of their American League conferees. Working out of their main encampment at Tucson, Ariz., the Indians will stage 24 of their 37 exhibition affairs against National League opponents.

Falcons Defeat Wampum 77 To 59

Freddy Wimer Stars With 30 Points For Falcons, Jackson Has 21 For Wampum

After playing a nip and tuck game the first half the Polish Falcons and Freddy Wimer suddenly came to life in the third stanza to ring up 20 points and go on to defeat the Wampum Merchants by a score of 77 to 59 at the Falcon court Sunday afternoon.

It was Wimer's sharpshooting, coupled with "Cash" Koszela and Franny Pitzer that spelled doom for the Wampum five. This invincible trio hit the nets for 52 points between them. Freddy Wimer was the big gun with 30 points, while "Cash" Koszela and Pitzer got 22 points between them. The best for the losers were Jackson, Fusco and Procopio, getting 45 points between them.

In the preliminary game She-Po Co Girls defeated the Morgan Girls five by a score of 46 to 6.

New Castle Trims Glassport 5 To 1 In Hockey League

New Castle Yellowjackets Lead Roller-Hockey League With Two Wins, No Defeats

The New Castle Yellowjackets roller-hockey team leads the western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio roller hockey league, with a stunning 5 to 1 win over the Glassport team at the Arena Sunday, their second straight triumph.

A fair sized crowd witnessed the thrilling match. New Castle goals were made as follows: Lee Stoops 2, Benny Lombardo 2, Angelo Jancone one. Glassport's score was made by Spuhler. Assisting in the scoring Sunday were Benny Price, Clarence Frampton, R. W. Paul and Lombardo.

New Castle will play the Fleming team at the Arena next Sunday at 8 o'clock. The league standing, New Castle won two and lost none, Glassport one and one, Bridgeville one and nothing and Flamingo nothing won, one lost and one tie.

Dr. Carlson Will Not Resign Post

Veteran Pitt Floor Coach Denies Resignation Rumor, After Talk With Hamilton

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The University of Pittsburgh had basketball coach Dr. H. C. Carlson's own word today that he would stick around to make it an even thirty.

Carlson denied a rumor that he intended to resign the post he has held for 27 years.

From Peoria, Ill., Saturday night the likeable Doctor in a telephone conversation said, "I see no reason I should not shoot for 30 years at Pitt."

He also supplied the probable source of the rumor when he said: "As a matter of courtesy to the incoming athletic director, Capt. Tom Hamilton of Navy (who moves to Pitt Feb. 1), I informed him of my willingness to step out of the basketball coaching job if that would help in cleaning the decks."

"He said he wanted no such action, and as for myself I have no wish to retire at this time."

The Panthers are currently on a western tour to the coast where they have seven games remaining with top opponents.

Croton laced Epworth 35 to 15. For Croton, West and Milliken accounted for 29 points. First Methodist doubled the score on Second U.P. to take an easy 42 to 21 win. Grimm got 16 for the Methodist and Tyrell hooped in 9 for the losers.

A.Z.A. continued on its unbeaten path with a 41 to 16 win over Central Presbyterian. Gilman's 21 markers was high for the A.Z.A. machine and Klingensmith got 9 for Central Presbyterian.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

AND NOW THAT the Lawrence County Council of Sportsmen have elected officers to serve during 1949, members of clubs affiliated with the council will look forward to improvement in game and fish conditions here. All matters which are adopted by the clubs go to the council, and from there to the Northwest division of which Elmer Brown is president and Seth Myers, Sharon, is secretary. If adopted there they go to the State Federation of Clubs. The new officers are: through which will benefit fish and game. The new officers are: George Bolinger, re-elected president. He is a member of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association; Joe Kraynack of the Ellwood City Rod and Gun club, is the vice president; James Cypher, who has been council vice president, was named treasurer; Eddie Fritz, Jr., secretary of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association, was elected secretary of the council and Joe Waskin of the Oakland Sportsmen's Association was named public relations officer. The clubs affiliated with the council are: Lawrence County Sportsman's Association; Ellwood City and Wampum Rod & Gun club; Mahoning Sportsman's Association; Lawrence County Coon and Fox Hunter's Association; Shenango Valley Beagle club; Enon Valley Rod & Gun club; Pennsylvania club; West Pittsburgh Rod & Gun club and the Oakland Sportsman's club. There are approximately 4,000 members affiliated with the clubs, the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association having the largest membership.

There are approximately between 8,000 and 9,000 hunters and fishermen licensed in Lawrence county, yet only half this number own a membership in a sportsman's club. Such a situation should not be. Those who do not belong, enjoy the same benefits, at no cost, as do those who pay dues to help better game and fish conditions. It is true, local game and fish conditions have not been too good in recent years. If the council could boast affiliates with a membership of 8,000 or 9,000, this would prove a strong talking point to the commissioners. In unity, there is strength, and the powers that be, always recognize it, whereas, some times pay small heed to groups with a small membership. Some sportsmen do not belong to a sports body simply because they have not given thought to the benefits to be derived. Some others are simply negligent, having intended to join, but didn't get around to it. And then again, there may be some who have a gripe at some officer or the manner in which business or affairs are conducted. In regard to this, here & there believes that the outdoorsman should be sufficiently broad to put aside personal grievances and to enjoy the comradeship of outdoorsmen he does like. Not everyone in an organization is perfect. In fact, there is no such thing as perfection, and if one outside the organization believes there is something wrong with the body, he can do real service by joining and attempting to correct what he considers wrong. Here & there looks upon outdoor life, the same as he does baseball, boxing, football, basketball and other sports, but does firmly believe that, in unity there is strength, and everyone who hunts or fishes, should have a membership in some outdoors organization, and in having such, will have helped to bring about better conditions. There is also a move club officials can do. They can procure a list of licensed hunters and fishermen, then interview prospective members, point out the advantages of membership and in this way they can help their own cause and gain added strength.

Croton Vs. Wampum 'B' League Feature

Undeclared Wampum meets one of their toughest tests tonight in the Class B church league games at the "Y." Croton furnishes the opposition in the seven o'clock contest, and although Wampum's, a not quite as good as Wampum's, in win tonight would keep them in the running for the first half championship.

First Presbyterians meets Second U.P. in an exhibition game at eight. Two tough lower division clubs are showing improvement each week. Wesley and First Methodist, meet in the nine o'clock go.

Dukes-Loyola Play Tonight

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—(INS)—A big, experienced Loyola team that has a season record to back up its press notices returns to the Gardens in Pittsburgh tonight for a tilt with Duquesne's once-beaten Dukes.

Last winter Tom Haggerty's Loyola team whipped the Dukes, 59-40, and practically knocked them out of tournament consideration. If they repeat tonight, the fate may be the same. Duquesne has won nine out of ten, while the visitors have 11 victories in 13 games.
